RETAIL INFLATION DOWN TO 4.06% IN JANUARY

The dip from 4.59% in Dec 2020 is attributed to declining veggie prices in the National Statistical Office data released on Friday

AT 1.89%, FOOD BASKET PRICE RISE DOWN, TOO

Meat, fish, eggs and milk experienced an uptick in price, but it was more than adequately offset by the decrease in the rates of vegetables and confectionaries. The overall rate of price rise in the food basket was 1.89% in January, down from 3.41% in December 2020. Retail inflation has cooled down significantly, owing largely to moderation in food inflation

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION UP 1% IN DEC

Indicating continuing recovery, industrial production entered positive territory after a month. The manufacturing sector posted a growth of 1.6% but mining output declined by 4.8%
Power generation grew by a healthy 5.1%, taking the overall growth of eight core sectors of the economy to 1%

Disengagement at Pangong to take more time

Army uses multiple modes to check pullback

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

FULL bilateral military disengagement in the Pangong lake area in Eastern Ladakh along the Line of Actual Control could take more time than thought, as the wary Indian Army is using multiple modes to verify China's reciprocal withdrawal of troops and equipment.

"We are not taking any chances this time. Additional verification mechanisms have been introduced. Apart from satellite and drone images, videography of the disengagement is also being done," a senior Army officer said.

The distrust stems from the problems the Chinese side had created both at Galwan and Hot Spring-Gogra in June last. Indian soldiers on their mission found partial disengagement in both sites, which snowballed into the Galwan violence.

"We have differences in perception about the position of the LAC on the north bank of the Pangong lake. But on the ground, there is no confusion about it in the south bank."

Chinese troops coming to Finger 4 were present inside India's claim line, but in the south bank, both sides are sitting in areas of their claim lines. As per the agreements, Chinese troops will relocate to the east of Finger 8 and the Indian Army will be based at Dhan Singh Thapa post close to Finger 4 on the north bank of the lake.

Withdrawal of armoured vehicles has been completed from around five spots. "The tanks were as close as 50 metres apart at some points. Now they have moved back to their administrative bases into the rear," another Army officer said.

Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said that the agreement to disengage at Pangong was reached after several rounds of talks. "The two sides have also agreed to convene 10th round of senior commanders meeting within 48 hours after complete disengagement in the Pangong lake area, to address the remaining issues," he said.

ISRO top brass pushed Sivan Jr's recruitment: Complaint

NIRAD MUDUR & BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) has registered a complaint against Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Chairman and Secretary, Department of Space (DoS), Dr K Sivan, over allegations of irregularities in recruiting his son in ISRO's Liquid

Propulsion Systems Centre (LPSC) in Valiamala, Thiruvananthapuram, by bypassing norms.

The complaint -- "171623/2021/vigilance-6", dated January 25, 2021 -- names LPSC Director Dr V Narayanan, and alleges that the recruitment of Dr Sivan's son Sidharth S was not just a matter of conflict of interest, but a case of "favouritism and conspiracy to benefit the Secretary DoS and Chairman ISRO (Sivan) and his son". Dr Narayanan, the complaint stated, was in a hurry to fill the post as Dr

Sivan was then supposed to retire on January 14 (his tenure has been extended) and Dr Narayanan was anticipating to be transferred to Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre. Sidharth's allegedly hurried recruitment was to favour ISRO chief before the anticipated transfer of Dr Narayanan, a rocket propulsion expert who joined ISRO in 1984 and has been LPSC director since January 2018. The complaint states that to hurry up the recruitment, Sidharth's placement was not taken up in the general recruitment through ISRO's Central Recruitment Board, which conducts screening, written test and interview. Instead, only interview was held. P7

Kharge is Leader of Opposition in RS

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

BYPASSING Congress deputy leader in the Rajya Sabha Anand Sharma, Gandhiloyalist and veteran party leader Mallikarjun Kharge is set to replace Ghulam Nabi Azad as the Leader of Opposition (LoP) in the Rajya Sabha.

A Dalit leader, Kharge, who is a nine-time MLA and two-time Lok Sabha member from Karnataka, was leader of the party during the last Lok Sabha. After he lost the last election in 2019, he was nominated to the Rajya Sabha last year with an aim to replace Azad, who is retiring on February 15. The party has informed the Rajya Sabha Secretariat about Kharge's appointment as Leader of Opposition.

Congress chief Sonia Gandhi picked Kharge over Azad, who did not get another term in Rajya Sabha, and Sharma, who was hopeful of the elevation in the Upper House, after they wrote to her seeking organisational elections and leadership issues. P4

The new lake formed upstream of the Rishiganga that is adding to the rescuers' worry | SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

Lake formed by rubble on Rishiganga river a concern

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Tapovan (Uttarakhand)

The rubble holding the water is huge. If loose material holding it is pushed away by water, it will be a big threat

AMID ongoing rescue efforts at the Tapovan tunnel, the detection of a new lake formed by boulders that rolled on to the Rishiganga and blocked it about 8 km upstream from Raini village, added to the worry as it could cause more havoc than Sunday flash floods if it were to burst.

However, scientists said water from the lake started draining on Friday, reducing the chances of a calamity.

Y P Sundariyal, head of the department of geology at the Hemvati Nandan Bahuguna Garhwal University, said, "The lake is around 250-300 metres long, 80-100 metres wide and of about 25-30 metres deep. As the volume of water is huge, hypothetically if it bursts, it could cause more damage than earlier. But since the water is slowly draining, it will not burst. Authorities should drain it without trying to burst it, using skilled manpower."

A similar but bigger lake was formed in 1998 in the Madakini river in Madmeshwar valley, which safely drained. "There was panic, but the lake drained and the danger was averted. We hope it will happen at this lake too," he added.

Uttarakhand Chief Minister Trivendra Singh Rawat said, "We need not panic but must stay alert." P9

Resignation drama on RS floor by TMC MP Trivedi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

TRINAMOOL Congress MP Dinesh Trivedi on Friday created a flutter by announcing his decision to prematurely end his Rajya Sabha membership on the floor of the House. He attributed rampant violence in West Bengal and suffocation in the party that is 'no longer under Mamata Ban-erjee's control' as reasons for his decision to resign.

Soon after getting up to speak during the debate on the Budget, Trivedi said: "There are limitations here. My party has sent me here, so I am grateful. But now I can't take what is happening any more. I am feeling suffocated. That's why I want to resign from here. I want to work for my Bengal," the former railway minister said.

The BJP was quick to welcome him, if he wanted to make the switch. Criticising the violence, Trivedi said: "I am from the land of Subhas Chandra Bose. My soul is saying I sit here and say nothing, what is the point?"

Bengaluru only Indian city in FDI global list

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU, which adorns many titles, added one more feather to its cap on Friday. It was placed 13 in the top 30 global cities of the future ranking, in the global economy and foreign direct investment (FDI), which was released by Knight & Frank.

While hailing the recognition, industry captains pointed out to the government that a lot more needs to be done to sustain and improve the city.

Singapore topped the list for the fourth consecutive time, followed by London and Dubai. Bengaluru is the only city in the country to make it to the list.

Soon after the report was released, ministers B Sriramulu and Jagadish Shettar took to Twitter to celebrate the achievement. IT-BT Principal Secretary Gaurav Gupta said that the list is an important parameter that shows how the investment fraternity looks at the city, and reveals the city's high recall value. The challenge, however, is to ensure that it is sustained and improved, he added.

T V Mohandas Pai, chairman, Manipal Global Education Services, said, "Bengaluru has the highest number of people in technology -- around 20 lakh people. It has 25,000 IT companies and gets $5-6 billion FDI every year." P7

PARENTS: WILL TAKE TO STREETS IF GOVT ROLLS BACK FEE ORDER

Object to submitting bank pass book, pay slip, etc to prove merit for concession

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

In response to some schools violating the state government's order to reduce school fees by 30 percent this academic year, several parents associations have stated that if the government considers a roll back of even one percent, parents will be out on the streets again.

At a press meet on Friday, Voice of Parents - Karnataka association, in alliance with Karnataka Private Schools' Parents Associations Coordination Committee put out a list of demands, including ensuring necessary steps to make sure no student is affected by this dispute, until it is resolved.

"Though this order did not meet all our demands, the parents still accepted it. The ICSE and CBSE school management associations want the parents to approach them on a case-to-case basis and submit our termination letter, bank pass book, pay slip, etc to prove we merit a concession. Why should we reveal such a lot of information to them? They are no authority to peep into our finances. Instead, they must be subject to audit if they want more than 70 percent of the fees to be paid," said Mohammed Shakeel, member of Voice of Parents-Karnataka Association.

They rued that the government was supposed to establish 42 cells in Block Education Offices for parents to raise fee complaints, but even after a week of the announcement, the counter has not been set up.

They listed out fee violations by school managements, including schools claiming that they haven't received the fee reduction order, some taking stay orders from the court and demanding the full fee, deactivating online classes, threatening to prevent the child from writing the exam, holding back their results, preventing promotion, issuing TC to the child, etc.

A press release by the parents associations stated that Associated Management of Primary and Secondary Schools in Karnataka wants a customised reduction instead of a blanket order, after denying the same option to parents for the past 10 months.

"Let school managements comply with the requirement to submit the statement of accounts of fee and it will be subject to audit by the department before publishing the nature of fee," the parents said.

Meeting on Feb 16 to decide on reopening Classes 1 to 8

ENS @Bengaluru

AFTER schools reopened for Classes 9, 10 and colleges for PUC I and II, the state government is planning to reopen schools for children of Class 1 to 8. Suresh Kumar, Primary and Secondary Education Minister, who was present along with other officials to discuss issues related to schools, said, "The education department, health department and the Technical Advisory Committee will hold a meeting on February 16 to decide on reopening schools for the remaining classes. This decision has been taken after many students, teachers and experts approached me and expressed their opinion on reopening schools." On February 1, the government had reopened full-day schools (from 10 am to 4.30 pm) for Classes 9 and 10. However, it decided to continue Vidyalaya for Classes 6 to 8 on alternate days.

He added, "SSLC and PUC classes are already in full swing and the number of students in the physical classes are increasing. Students have been actively involved in academic activities since the tentative exam timetable was published. The process of final exams, evaluation and results for Class 10 and PUC 2 will be announced by the end of June. Similarly, exams and results for Classes 1 to 9 will be completed and announced by June 10."

Kid vendors survey: HC asks officials to be present in court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

OFFICERS of the police department, Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike and State Government failed to attend a meeting held by the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA) to discuss a survey to identify children who are forced to sell articles on streets and at traffic junctions in the city.

Taking note of it, the Karnataka High Court on Friday directed senior officials of the police department, BBMP and government to be present personally before court on February 18 to ensure the cooperation of all stakeholders for the survey. A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadam passed the order after H Shashidhar Shetty, member secretary of KSLSA, submitted the report to court, in response to directions issued on a PIL filed by city-based Letzkit Foundation.

Pointing to non-cooperation of the officers, KSLSA highlighted the need for officials to cooperate in mapping street children. The report also mentioned that only a few NGOs agreed to take part in the survey.

KSLSA also informed court that it had found around 800 children engaged in selling toys, flowers and other articles in and around 432 hotspots in the city, but they have to be physically identified through the survey.

Only pedestrians, e-vehicles on this 700m stretch of Gandhi Bazaar Main Road

Bengaluru: The 700 metres stretch from Tagore Park to Ramakrishna Ashram will be converted into a pedestrian-friendly street where all kinds of electric vehicles, cycles and pedestrians will be allowed. This was announced after a detailed discussion with BBMP and DULT along with urban development minister Byrathi Basavaraj and MLA Uday Garudachar on Friday. BBMP Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad said the aim of the project is to help shoppers and vendors. According to DULTs project report, a parking space for two-wheelers, cars and autorickshaw drivers will be created in the parallel streets and separate space for street vendors' stalls will also be created. However, all the works will be undertaken after a detailed consultation with the public. ENS

MAHE girl is Oxford Student Union prez

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Udupi

RASHMI SAMANT, an alumna of Manipal Institute of Technology, MAHE, created history by winning the presidency of Oxford Student Union on Thursday. Samant is the first Indian woman to assume the position. Incidentally, she bagged more votes than the other three contestants combined.

She is a graduate student of MSc in energy systems at Linacre College, Oxford University. She ran for the post of Oxford SU President with four main priorities—decolonisation and inclusivity, Covid intervention for all, access to quality mental health resources and decarbonising the university. Samant received 1,966 of the 3,708 votes cast for the position of president, more than all the other candidates combined, in a landslide victory.

She intends to lobby the University and Conference of Colleges to remove all statutes proven to be imperialist, including Christopher Codrington's. She will also push for waiving of residency requirements until the World Health Organisation declares the end of the pandemic, lobby to increase funding for the mental health strategy and work to convince the Conference of Colleges to divest from fossil fuels as soon as possible.

Rashmi, daughter of Vathsala Samant and Dinesh Samant, hails from Manipal. She completed her early education in Manipal and Udupi, and her graduation in Mechanical Engineering at Manipal Institute of Technology (2016-2020 batch), Manipal.

She was the Technical Secretary of the Student Council at MIT, Manipal. Manipal Hackathon, an event to incubate modern digital solutions to societal challenges, was conceived and introduced at MIT primarily because of her efforts.

Officials of MAHE, the Director, MIT and the staff members of the institute praised Rashmi's achievement and wished her all the success in her role as the president of Oxford SU.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

13th February: We are heading for a Scorpic moment. In other words, levels of passion are rising, and commonsense is decreasing. When so many people are inclined to act on the basis of gut instinct, those who do best may be those who buck the trend by sticking cautiously to the facts. I think I'll leave the choice to you!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

Now you must go all out to impress other people with your financial verve and personal generosity. The sub-text today is written by the Sun, which is about to bring fresh light to a special relationship. I hope very much that you like what you see!

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

The fact that the perfect passionate alignment occurs tomorrow doesn't detract from today's splendid emotional prospect. Joy, happiness, nostalgia and sentimentality with each other. Don't be too sensitive, though. By hoping for the best, you will actually help the best to happen.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

It's a day of work for most of you. If regular employment is not on the agenda, go for a traditional day of practical and household chores. Also, take one or two sensible measures to boost your physical well-being. The point is that you need to do something worthwhile, and not feel as if you've wasted your time.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

I'd like to remind you that you're now moving through a deeply prosperous phase, even though there are bound to be weekly and monthly fluctuations. That said, today's stars are wonderful for all partnership affairs and friendly meetings—as I hope you'll find.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

The Moon swoops over your horoscope, reminding you of the importance of harmonious and meaningful family connections, but don't demand commitment from those who are not prepared to give it. The best influences are saved for domestic spending and investments.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sept 23)

You are under the poetic sway of Mercury and Venus, that most charming of celestial combinations. If you want to convince anyone of your finer qualities and persuade them that you are in the right, now is the time. Family members should be especially susceptible to your charms.

LIBRA (Sept 24 - Oct 23)

Everything looks terribly favourable. Social and emotional developments augur well for the future and may be more significant than they seem at first sight. Shopping sprees are just the thing to lighten your mood. You'll also be shuffling your opinions, causing a spot of confusion along the way.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

If you please one person who is important to you now, you are almost certain to offend another. If I were you, I'd avoid all controversial acts and potentially ambiguous statements for the next few weeks, and stick to tried and tested methods of getting your way.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 22)

Before very much longer has passed you may have had one or two little leanings on the way of life is going and what you should do to improve things as you go along. Nurture your spirit and allow time for quiet, meditative thought, healing your inner hurts.

CAPRICORN (Dec 23 - Jan 20)

One special relationship is undergoing a process that's bound to strengthen it in the long run. Even casual acquaintances may have more than you expect to offer in the emotional department. Combine maturity and stability with a child-like delight in the romantic potential that's soon to come your way.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

Many of you may be working hard this weekend. Those of you at home may be concerned about you, or a partner's, professional prospects. Financial potential is exceptionally bright and social trends are good—as long as you let partners take first place from time to time!

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

Your lunar alignments today are intense, emotional and sympathetic—and very enthusiastic. At the end of the day you will emerge stronger and happier in yourself. Foreign news should be arriving, and you might have a chance to heal rift with a loved one.

Experts: Post-Covid Care Centres needed across state

75% of patients return to hosp complaining of chest pain, anxiety

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

THE World Health Organization has urged countries to prioritise rehabilitation for medium and long-term consequences of Covid and to gather information on "long Covid" more systematically. While healthcare experts and doctors recommend that Karnataka should set up post-Covid care centres at all district hospitals, patients who have recovered from the infection have faced complications as they are not aware of such care.

"Dubbed 'long Covid', estimates suggest that nearly 75 per cent of patients who suffered from severe forms of infection return to hospitals complaining of chest pain, shortness of breath, fatigue, stress and anxiety. It is important for the state to set up post-care centres. But what was suggested by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare was post-Covid care at home, taking Ayush medicines, drinking hot water, performing yoga etc. This is not enough for patients who were symptomatic and had ICU stay during Covid," said a senior doctor from a Covid care hospital in Bengaluru, on condition of anonymity.

Dr Manjunath, Director, Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences, said that patients who had an ICU stay do come back with complications, majorly related to residual lung involvement or remote involvement of cardiac or pancreatic issues. "Evaluation for residual problems will be necessary and we also need to counsel them for psychological issues. Such patients complain of breathlessness, fatigue, body pain etc. We need to evaluate them for certain tests, like Pulmonary Function Test, six-minute walk test, which show cardiac involvement, and B-Dimer tests, whose values if very high will show clot formation in arteries etc. For these, it is better to have post-Covid care units at all hospitals," he added.

Patients who have recovered from the infection have faced complications as they are not aware of such care | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

All that is needed to set up such centres is a pulmonologist, a physician and a psychologist. "These three doctors, along with some of the tests I have suggested, can assess the patient and follow up on any post-Covid complications," he said.

State Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar in November last year had announced that post-Covid care and rehabilitation centres would be set up in state-run hospitals in all the 30 districts. He had even inaugurated a centre at JSS Hospital in Mysuru. But no such centres were set up at any other place. Department sources said, "The focus was more on prevention and cure of Covid. Also, lack of funding for post-Covid care didn't take the plan forward. There were no particular guidelines too from ICMR."

Dr Satyanarayana Mysore, Senior Pulmonologist and Head of the department, Sleep Medicine at Manipal Hospital, Bengaluru said there is a systematically planned post-Covid care setup at the hospital. All the patients who have recovered from Covid at Manipal Hospital are called for a follow-up. If a patient complains of any pulmonary issues or sleep disorders, which are common after recovering from Covid, then they are put on a 12-week pulmonary rehabilitation care programme. Under this, the patient is assessed and graded exercises are taught to redevelop and strengthen the lungs.

"The patients are also taught sleep resynchronisation strategies, bright light therapy etc to ensure they get back to their sleep routine. We do doppler scans to rule out any clots in the lung, and we also conduct lung function and diffusion study," he said.

IFFATH FATHIMA @Bengaluru

HEALTH experts say that Covid vaccines may not be fully effective on people who are obese, a population at greater risk of contracting Covid-19. But more studies are needed to confirm the direct relation between obesity and vaccines, they add.

Dr Swati Rajagopal, consultant, Infectious Diseases and Travel Medicine, Aster CMI Hospital, said that obesity does affect the efficacy of vaccines, including the seasonal flu shots. "Obesity affects immune system responses and causes dysregulation. The effects of vaccines in this category could be different. However, we will need more data to look at responses to Covid vaccines considering that different technologies are used to design vaccines. It would be interesting to see the response to mRNA vaccines like Moderna," she added.

Another doctor said, "When vaccines were given to people with flu or other diseases, they were not as effective in obese adults as they were on thinner people. However, we need to wait," he said.

In Karnataka, a 43-year-old from Ballari died after taking the vaccine. It was stated that the death was due to myocardial infarction and that he was obese as well.

Dr Ravindra Mehta, chief of pulmonology and critical care at Apollo Hospitals, Bengaluru, pointed out that it is important to carry out studies on sub-groups to identify if vaccines work or not among certain groups. "This is the time for people to try and see what Covid vaccine dosage is adequate or optimum for which sub-group. It is said obese people have many medical problems, but we still do not know the efficacy of vaccines on them," he said.

Dr Sumit Talwar, HoD & Consultant, Bariatric Surgery, General Surgery, Manipal Hospitals, Old Airport Road, said that vaccines can be beneficial to both obese and non-obese people.

"The Pfizer vaccine trials were done among all groups and it had shown 95% efficacy. However, there is still a question mark on whether obese people need more doses or not. But they can take the vaccines," he added.

3 hours after high-risk bariatric surgery, patient starts walking

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

@Bengaluru

IN a one of a kind, challenging bariatric surgery, surgeons of a private hospital in Bengaluru gave a new lease of life to a 67-year-old male suffering from morbid obesity and a range of health problems, including difficulty in walking and breathing.

At 77kg, the patient was double his ideal weight, resulting in a BMI of 39 due to his short stature of 137 cm (4'5"). The condition led to several cardiac and pulmonary problems, knee pain, obstructive sleep apnea, elevated creatinine levels and breathing difficulties, as the fat burden pushed against his diaphragm. All efforts by the patient to reduce his weight went in vain, and he found it difficult to carry on day-to-day activities. With his conditions making him a high-risk patient, he was denied surgery by many hospitals.

Dr G Moinoddin, Consultant Bariatric & Advanced Laparoscopic Surgeon, Vikram Hospital, said, "The patient was suffering from morbid obesity and metabolic syndrome for the last five years, leading to serious health issues. He was unable to sleep properly and even sit or stand. Walking just a few steps left him gasping for breath. Surgery was the only option, and get relief from other comorbidities, but this was considered very risky due to his cardio-pulmonary condition. If left untreated, the condition would have led to cardiac arrest and death." The surgery was completed in less than half an hour. Dr Satish Thammanna, Consultant Anaesthesiologist, Vikram Hospital, said, "He was able to walk three hours after surgery. In less than a week, he lost 5 kg. He is expected to lose another 30 to 35 kg in the coming 8 to 10 months, bringing his BMI back to normal."

Collect Covid-19 negative reports of Kerala visitors: Kodagu DC to hotel assn

Madikeri: Kodagu DC Charulata Soma has requested stakeholders in the Kodagu hospitality industry to collect Covid-19 negative reports of tourists checking into resorts and homestays from neighbouring Kerala. This request has been forwarded to the president of the Hotel and Resort Association of Kodagu. The district sees a large tourist inflow from Kerala. However, with Kerala reporting high number of coronavirus cases, the health department issued a notice to Kodagu DC asking her to take precautionary measures. Following this, the DC has requested the stakeholders to admit tourists from Kerala only after collecting Covid negative reports 72 hours prior to check-in. However, no official order has been passed in this regard. ENS

Cong MLCs urge Govt to withhold nod to cow bill

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS MLCs have appealed to the Governor to withhold assent to the Anti-Cow Slaughter Bill and also sought action against the deputy chairman of the Legislative Council. "The deputy chairman went ahead to pass the Bill even though the Opposition demanded for division of votes and we all rushed to the well of the House as a protest," Congress MLCs B K Hariprasad, P R Ramesh, M Narayanaswamy, Nasser Ahmed and others stated in a memorandum submitted to the Governor.

When the House was not in order on February 9, the Deputy Chairman wanted to introduce the motion for consideration of the election of chairman in the House. "The deputy chairman failed to bring the House in order and declared Basavaraj Horatti as chairman by considering only motion moved by JDS members without conducting the election, contrary to the rules of procedure and conduct of business," they stated.

They appealed to the Governor to return the Bill to the House for reconsideration and also review the proceedings in the House when chairman was elected and take suitable action against the deputy chairman.

The Vijayapura MLA is vocal in demanding leadership change in State, party disciplinary committee seeks his response within a week

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CRACKING the whip on senior party leader and former union minister Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, the BJP high command on Friday issued him a show-cause notice seeking an explanation for his comments against party leaders in the state.

Sources said the central leadership decided to issue the notice as Yatnal continued to make statements on change of leadership in the state and speak against Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, causing much embarrassment to the party. Despite being warned by party leaders, Yatnal had openly hit out at Yediyurappa on several occasions and had spoken about change in leadership, sources said.

Yatnal was complaining about not receiving sanctioned funds for development works in his constituency, Vijayapura, and took potshots at the CM while saying discussions were on within the party over change in leadership. Yatnal, a Lingayat strongman from Vijayapura, and known for his hardline Hindutva views, is seen as a very ambitious leader who has felt slighted over not being given prominence in the State government.

He, however, has denied having ministerial aspirations.

Yatnal's comments fuelled speculations over leadership change in the state and many within the party had questioned why the party was not taking action against the MLA. Yatnal had also taken on the government in the Assembly recently over demand from the Pancha-

'Vijayanagara district to enjoy special status'

ANUSHA RAVI @ Bengaluru

AN official notification from Governor Vajubhai Vala identifying the newly gazetted district of Vijayanagara as part of Kalyana Karnataka is all set to be issued soon. With this, the district will continue to enjoy special status accorded to the region under Article 371J of the Constitution.

Speaking to TNIE, Minister for Infrastructure Development and Wakf Anand Singh said the State Government has recommended notifying Vijayanagara as part of Kalyana Karnataka to the Governor. "Since no new taluks have been added, it will be considered as part of united Ballari and same benefits will be extended," he said.

Status quo on mining funds

Even as his party colleagues from Ballari are miffed over notification of Karnataka's 31st district Vijayanagara and have been raising concerns over the split in mining royalty revenues, funds from Karnataka Mining Environment Restoration Corporation and District Mineral Foundation, Singh insisted that status quo will be maintained. "There is some ₹17,000cr in KMERC funds that can be utilised for development instead of burdening the State treasury that is also cash-strapped. We only need approval from the SC-appointed committee. Since the taluks are the same, the fund allocation will also remain the same. It is still united Ballari with another administrative headquarters," he said.

Hampi is part of the State's 31st district - Vijayanagara

"Special status under Article 371J is given to Kalyana Karnataka as a region. The Governor can notify what districts come under that region. Since the new district has no additional taluks, the government will recommend that it be allowed to hold special status which will be approved by the Governor," said Prabhuling Navadgi, Advocate General.

Techie hopes to transform her village

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Davanagere

FROM coding to the hospitality industry to administering a gram panchayat, Swathi Thippeswamy's plate is full of variety.

The software engineer was elected Gram Panchayat president in Jagalur taluk in Davanagere. Hailing from Sokke village, the engineering graduate from PESIT, Bengaluru, took the regular software route to the United States, where she spent five years. She has now returned to Sokke, where four generations of her family have been part of the local administration. Swathi, who won from the third ward of Sokke village, was till recently a resident of Bengaluru, where she was running a hotel successfully. It was a call from her retired bureaucrat father Thippeswamy that made her shift gears and enrol in the voters' list in the village, and get elected. The post of GP chief was reserved for woman (general).

Swathi says her priorities are education and health, and she is determined to improve infrastructure like drinking water, street lighting, develop public toilets and ensure security for girls. "The election has given me an opportunity to serve my ancestors' village," Swathi told TNIE. She recollected the services of her family - ancestors Thippaiah, G Maddanaiah and KM Kottraiah - who had served the village well.

With her children studying in Bengaluru, Swathi hopes to shuttle between Sokke and the state capital, a distance of 250km. She said she would stay at her ancestors' home for at least four days a week. In this digital era, technology will help her in administration, she said. She wants to transform the village using her technological expertise, and rope in corporates to transform the small GP, comprising four villages.

Asked about corruption in the electoral process, Swathi said she had not spent any money on her election and that corruption would lead to disaster in the country. She advised the educated public to join politics, so that administration can be clean and corruption-free.

Sharma, Azad may not return to Rajya Sabha

PARTY sources said that Sharma, whose Rajya Sabha term too ends soon, and Azad are unlikely to be brought back to the Upper House. "Kharge is a veteran leader and was the top choice of the high command. Recent developments in the Rajya Sabha during the Motion of Thanks discussion further dented Sharma's chances. The party's stand as agreed during the parliamentary strategy meeting before the start of the budget session was different from what happened on the floor of the House, which didn't go well with the top leadership," said a senior party leader.

PM Modi, during discussions in the Lok Sabha, too took a dig at Congress over its different stand in the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha over the demand for a separate debate to discuss farmer agitation.

In the Rajya Sabha, the party led by Azad agreed to discuss farmer agitation along with the Motion of Thanks, while in the Lok Sabha, the party demanded a separate discussion on farmers' issues and disrupted the House.

"It was embarrassing that the party in Lok Sabha had to agree to joint discussion as we accepted the Centre's proposal in the Rajya Sabha. It was contradictory to party's planned strategy," said a party MP.

Sour harvest for Udupi's pineapple growers as prices plummet

PRAKASH SAMAGA @ Udupi

WITH prices of pineapples falling in the market, growers of this tropical fruit in Udupi district are staring at heavy losses.

Pineapples grown in the district have high demand in up-country markets like Delhi and Mumbai, apart from Kerala. This year, however, demand from outside the state has fallen and growers are dependent on only the local market - the reason for the price crash, they say. A few farmers in Karkala have not even harvested their crop as prices are too low.

According to sources in the horticulture department, the district is home to more than 400 pineapple growers who cultivate the crop on 467 hectares. The farmers mainly grow other horticultural crops such as coconut and arecanut, while pineapple is grown as an intercrop. Usually, the demand for pineapple surges in the beginning of February, as people consume its juice to beat the early heat. However, due to the prevailing winter-like weather, demand is yet to pick up.

Farmers are getting just Rs 20 per kg of pineapple, a dip from Rs 60 they got a few years ago. To make pineapple cultivation economically feasible, growers need to get a minimum of Rs 30 per kg, sources said.

Pineapple growers in Udupi are expecting prices to go up by the month-end. In a government nursery located at Rama Samudra (Karkala taluk), about 45,000 pineapple plants are grown on about 5 acres. Officials said the fruit is ready to be harvested, but the price is not lucrative enough. So they have decided to wait for a few more weeks. Nidhish K J, assistant director, horticulture department, said that pineapple cultivation was a success this year as the plants were not hit by any disease.

Suryakanth B, a pineapple grower from Mudradi village, said the market price may be disappointing because competing fruits like oranges and grapes are cheaper these days.

'Tech can bring farmers wealth, independence'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PLAYING on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Atmanirbhar message, Yelahanka MLA S R Vishwanath on Friday said that farmers' incomes are not rising because of dalals (middlemen), and technology can play a crucial role in making farmers independent and wealthy.

He pointed out that it is not farmers who are seeking Minimum Support Price (MSP) but middlemen, who are getting rich by exploiting farmers. Once this is rectified, farmers will benefit economically, but for this, they need to use technology. He was speaking at the valedictory function of the five-day National Horticulture Fair, organised by Indian Council of Agricultural Research-Indian Institute of Horticultural Research (ICAR-IIHR).

Dr V Venkatasubramanian, Director, ICAR-Atari, Zone XI, Bengaluru, said the fair had set

Venkatasubramanian said the '5Js' should be given importance to sustain agriculture and horticulture - jal (water), jameen (land), jaanvar (animals), jungle (forests) and jung (battle). He pointed out that the country faces the challenge of excessive production which is going waste, but this can be corrected with the right use of technology at the right time.

Want promotion? Cut flab: KSRP top cop

Senior officers issue warnings as lifestyle-related ailments and deaths rise among personnel

M6 CHETAN @Bengaluru

CUT the flab or forget promotion, is the terse message from the Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) of Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) to keep his force fit and healthy.

In a memo dated February 10, ADGP Alok Kumar has asked his staff who are weighing 10 kg or more than the average weight to get slim or to let go of their promotions.

Writing to Commandants of all KSRP and India Reserve battalions, he has said that activities like 5 km run, walk and physical exercises are being conducted for officers and staff of battalions and training schools. "The exercise has resulted in considerable weight loss, which has improved their health," the KSRP memo stated.

"However, many officers and staff are weighing over 10 kg more than the average weight for their age. Hence, the Commandants are directed to ask their staff to compulsorily reduce their weight before April 30 and should warn the staff, including Followers, that their promotions will be withheld if they fail to do so," the memo read.

The ADGP has also given a chart of weight to be reduced. The staff below 40 years should cut down 10 kg, while those aged between 40 and 50 should reduce 5 kg. Those aged between 50 and 55 will have to shed 2.5 kg before the deadline.

When The New Indian Express contacted Kumar, he refused to comment, saying he is scheduled to give a presentation on the same issue at the Senior Police Officers' Annual Conference on Saturday and he cannot share any further information.

This is not the first time that the reserve police are being asked to shed a few pounds. Even in 2018, the then ADGP of KSRP, Bhaskar Rao, had warned his potbellied staff to lose weight or lose their job. Alok Kumar was particular that the staff should maintain a good shape and good health and had made it mandatory for KSRP officers and staff to burn calories through regular exercising in October last year. It is said that senior officers are forced to issue such warnings as lifestyle-related ailments and deaths are increasing among the reserve police.

Cybercrime will be big challenge, get ready to face it: CM to police

Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the government is contemplating increasing the number of years for transfer to two. "As per the Supreme Court direction, Police Establishment Board will look after transfers and postings. Though there is a provision to transfer officers after they have been in a posting for one year, we are not doing that. We are thinking of increasing the number to two years so that they can work effectively". He added that the Bill to introduce laws to curb online gaming was in the draft stage.

cybercrimes will be a big challenge for the police in future. Hence, we have set up eight Cyber Crime, Economic Offences, and Narcotics (CEN) police stations in Bengaluru. The government is committed to equip the police department technologically, by providing all required facilities," the CM said.

Yediyurappa, who also released the Karnataka State Industrial Security Force (KSISF) logo, Directorate of Forensic Science Laboratory Action Plan 2021-2024, Police Calendar, and launched the Mobile Crime and Criminal Tracking Network & Systems (CCTNS) System on Friday, mentioned that the government had relaxed the age limit for direct recruitment of Sub-Inspectors.

Former mayor gets bail in DJ Halli riots case

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court on Friday granted conditional bail to former mayor R Sampath Raj, who was arrested by the Central Crime Branch in connectio the DJ Halli and KG Halli riots on August 11 last year. Justice John Michael Cunha allowed the bail plea filed by Raj, who was arrested for allegedly hatching a conspiracy to set the house of MLA Akhanda Shrinivasamurthy on fire. Among other conditions, the court imposed conditions that the accused should not tamper with witnesses, nor leave the jurisdiction of the court without prior permission. Raj allegedly went missing from the hospital where he was admitted for Covid-19, fearing arrest by the CCB. Later, he was arrested. He approached HC for bail, as a special court had rejected it in December. ENS

Virudhunagar cracker unit explosion kills 17, injures 32

Deceased include a pregnant woman, college student; three people booked

AZEEFA FATHIMA @ Virudhunagar

FRIDAY, the 12th: another black day in the history of Tamil Nadu. A major fire that broke out in a fireworks factory at Achankulam village of Vembakottai in Virudhunagar on Friday reportedly claimed lives of at least 17 people, and injured over 32 others. The deceased include a pregnant woman and a college student. However, no data is available with the officials on the exact number of casualties.

The fire was reported at 1.30 pm at the Nagpur-licensed Sree Mariyammal Fireworks Factory, about 13 kilometres away from the nearest fire station. Three rescue vehicles, from Vembakottai, Sivakasi and Sattur, were rushed to the spot along with 30 rescue personnel, and four fire officers, headed by the District Fire Officer, Ganesan. The reason of the accident was ascertained as a reaction during the chemical filling process, the DFO said.

At the end of about four hours of

Fire and rescue personnel look for survivors at the cracker unit site in Virudhunagar in Tamil Nadu, where an explosion killed 17 people, on Friday rescue operations, 37 persons were reported to be affected (including the dead). Nine bodies were recovered in a charred condition from the spot, and another six died during the treatment. While the gender of 12 of the deceased persons (7 men, 5 women) was identified so far, some of their names are yet to be ascertained.

The process of identifying the deceased are on and the authorities are planning to hand over the bodies to the relatives on Saturday morning.

A total of 24 injured persons have been identified. Police sources said that three persons, including the unit's license owner Santhanamari, have been booked.

'Bengaluru has good startup ecosystem, talent pool'

"BESIDES, 12-15 million sqft area is used as office space here," T V Mohandas Pai said. But, he added, the government needs to invest better in Bengaluru. Metro Rail work is very slow, though the city needs a quick 200 km Metro line. Travelling to and from the airport is a nightmare as commuters are stuck on Hebbal flyover for 30 minutes. But Singapore is ranked number 1 as the government works there. Politicians here need to get the work done and all leaders should act together, Pai added.

Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw, Chairperson and Managing Director, Biocon, said, "Karnataka has a start-up policy and a start-up vision group, which is being followed by the Centre now. The finance ministry should improve investments to startups so that other Indian cities like Pune and Hyderabad too get recognition."

She said Bengaluru has a good natural start-up ecosystem and the talent pool here is very good. Every institution has created an incubation centre, the city has many unicorns and majority of philanthropic capital investment goes to startups. A similar system is missing in other cities. Bengaluru also has the risk-taking appetite which makes it an ideal place, she added.

Prashanth Prakash, partner at Accel and member of Karnataka Startup Advisory Council, said, "What has happened in Bengaluru is coming together of the ecosystem, government, traditional large industries (like Wipro and Infosys), startups and R&D. The energy is all-pervasive, creating the right environment. The millennial youth and the cosmopolitan city make it an ideal fertile land. But the present infrastructure does not match the potential, which now needs to improve. Also, during the lockdown, Bengaluru and India showed to all IT firms globally that it can deliver and adapt in most critical times, which also helped."

All processes followed in recruitment: Sivan's office

THE Department of Space, ISRO and LPSC had issued an advertisement (no. LPSC/01/2020) for post number 738 of Scientist Engineer 'SC' [Level 10 (pay matrix: Rs 56,100 - Rs 1,77,500)] at LPSC units located at Valiamala, Thiruvananthapuram and Bengaluru. Candidates seeking to apply for the selection were asked to visit the website www.lpsc.gov.in to fill up the online application form. The recruitment portal was made available from October 27, 2020, to November 9, 2020. The advertisement mentioned the required qualification as "BE/BTech or equivalent in Electronics & Communication Engineering + ME/MTech or equivalent in VLSI (Very Large-Scale Integration) & Embedded Systems".

However, the complaint alleged that there is no requirement of MTech in VLSI in LPSC and that no one has been recruited so far in LPSC with this qualification for Scientist Engineer 'SC' level. It charged that the qualification mentioned in the advertisement "perfectly matched" that of Sidharth, who is an MTech. "This gives rise to the apprehension that the advertisement was tailor-made for the particular candidate," it stated.

In the merit list of three candidates put out by LPSC, Sidharth is ranked second, and the list stands valid till January 13, 2022.

Dr Sivan refused to directly comment on the issue, but his office in Bengaluru, while acknowledging that a complaint had been filed, told TNIE that all due processes had been followed in Sidharth's recruitment, and nothing had been compromised. "Respective (ISRO) centres conduct interviews. There are three ways of recruiting. One is through ISRO's Central Recruitment Board, which is for the general streams. The second is through campus recruitment. The third includes respective ISRO centres looking for candidates with specialisation. Being an MTech, Sidharth's application was screened by an appropriate committee, after which he attended the interview. All due processes have been followed," the ISRO Chairman's office said. A source close to Dr Sivan also said that Sidharth had applied to a few companies and organisations and ISRO was just one of them.

Dr Narayanan, however, did not respond to repeated calls by this paper.

Meanwhile, the complaint registered by the CVC is "under process".

Cops arrest Audi driver in hit-and-run case

Bengaluru: Cubbon Park police on Thursday arrested a 27-year-old car dealer who was allegedly involved in a hit-and-run case, when he rammed three people, including an auto driver, injuring them. He was driving an Audi. The incident was took place on Sunday afternoon on Lavelle Road and the driver fled soon after the incident. A police officer said that the accused, Mohammed Sadab, is a resident of BMT Layout Stage-II. The preliminary probe revealed that the Audi R8 belonged to Bollywood actor Shilpa Shetty's husband Raj Kundra. He had sold the car to Sadab three months ago. However, the paperwork was not complete yet showing that Sadab was the owner and as he escaped from the spot, police were not able to trace him. Sadab said that since it was a new car, he lost control over it, leading to the accident. ENS

Actor's son-in-law says he was threatened

Bengaluru: Sandalwood actor Satyajith's son-in-law has approached Banasawadi police, alleging that he and his wife were being harassed and abused by the actor for the past few months. Recently, a group of men had also barged into their house and threatened them. "We have registered a non-cognizable report. A probe is on. However, both families were called to the station and they agreed to a compromise," a police officer said. Speaking to TNIE, Mohammed Ibrahim Khan, Satyajith's son-in-law, alleged that he and his wife were tortured by the group. She also reportedly received a rape threat on social media, after Satyajith spoke to some news channels and allegedly tried to defame them. "He wants money from us, and was also forcing me to divorce his daughter. He even sent some men to our house a few days ago. Both, me and my wife were stopped on the road and threatened. Hence, we approached police, but the latter is yet to take proper action," he said, adding that he has filed a private complaint in court. ENS

Glitch hits IRCTC site for 2 hrs, users fume

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

MANY weekend plans were cancelled last minute on Friday afternoon when the Indian Railway Catering and Tourism Corporation (IRCTC) website stopped working due to a technical glitch. The issue was rectified after 2 hours and 40 minutes. The glitch occurred around 11.45 am and was sorted out by 2.25 pm. The website informed the public only at 1.19 pm on its official Twitter handle after twitterati lashed out at the corporation. Those trying to book individually were alerted that the site was under maintenance at 12.30 pm.

Confirming the development, a spokesperson for IRCTC from New Delhi told TNIE, "A technical glitch occurred but fixed it right later. This happens very rarely. It is happening possibly after two years," he said. Urban transportation expert Sanjeev Dyamannavar was among those in Bengaluru trying to book a ticket to travel on Saturday. "Initially, the website was very slow and I was not able to login. After a few attempts, I could, but then couldn't proceed with the booking. Around 45 minutes later, at 12.30 pm, a message said the site was under maintenance and it would take some time. I was struggling to book tickets for one-and-a-half hours. Similarly, many others who were trying to make bookings would have had a terrible time. Hope this does not repeat in the future."

Dhanbad-based Santhosh Kumar Mahli was upset when he received a pop up message only after three hours that the site is shut for maintenance.

PIL seeks registration of domestic workers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court issued notice to the state and central governments on a PIL seeking direction for registration of domestic workers under the Unorganised Workers' Social Security Act, and Unorganised Workers' Social Security (Karnataka) Rules, 2009, which provide for registration of the workers and benefits under various schemes.

A division bench of Chief Justice

Abhay Shreenivas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadam issued notice after hearing the PIL filed by Domestic Workers' Rights Union.

The petition stated that, as per National Sample Survey, 39 lakh people - 13 lakh male and 26 lakh female - are employed as domestic workers by private households, though the actual number is likely to be much more.

The petitioner contended that it has submitted a representation to the Unorganised Workers' Social Security Board, raising a number of issues faced by domestic workers and seeking an appointment to discuss holding of a tripartite workshop but there was no response.

Placement agencies unregulated

Domestic workers have been included in the Minimum Wages Act and Sexual Harassment (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013. However, there has been a complete failure in implementation of these Acts, and placement agencies continue to function unregulated, the petitioner claimed.

LAC DISENGAGEMENT WELCOME, BUT WITH VERIFICATION

The India-China disengagement process that began in the northern and southern banks of the Pangong Tso marks a huge breakthrough after nine months of eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation in Ladakh. The details of the disengagement, first announced by the Chinese side on Wednesday, were revealed to the nation and the world by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Thursday. The agreement is not only workable but also shows that both sides have made adjustments to their positions to arrive at this. After the violent clashes between Indian and Chinese troops in the Galwan Valley on June 15 last year, India upped the ante in Ladakh and occupied some key mountains in the Kailash Ranges overlooking the Moldo cantonment of China. This riled up the Chinese, who insisted that any disengagement process must first begin with Indian troops pulling back from the Kailash Ranges near Chushul. But India was firm that the pull-back must be comprehensive and should cover the entire Ladakh, starting from the Depsang Plains to other areas. That the agreement is limited only to the northern and southern banks of Pangong shows neither side had its way and a compromise was agreed upon. So from that point of view it is a good start.

But this is just the beginning and a lot of ground still needs to be covered. Firstly, even if the pullback is successfully implemented by both sides, the question of deployment and patrolling of areas is as yet undecided. Till the Chinese pushed forward and stationed themselves at Finger 4, Indian troops regularly patrolled till this point, sometimes going up to Finger 8 even. This means New Delhi claims the Line of Actual Control runs till Finger 8. But as Singh spelt out in Parliament, an agreement on this has been left for another date. Secondly, the standoff is not limited only to the Pangong area. Indian and Chinese troops are in confrontation in Depsang, Galwan, Gogra Hot Springs and Chushul. The friction in these areas also needs to be addressed, which is bound to pose huge diplomatic challenges and will most likely be time-consuming. The Chinese are known to be very calculative and wily. India needs to keep up its guard.

UNCERTAINTY PERSISTS OVER TOKYO OLYMPICS

Melbourne is an apt example of sports during coronavirus. The Australian Open had allowed spectators in stadiums, but on Thursday, they were forced out of the Rod Laver Arena when a tired-looking Novak Djokovic was trying to weave past Taylor Fritz of the US. The cases in Melbourne were rising and local authorities had called for a five-day lockdown from midnight. Play had to be suspended as organisers asked the spectators to file out as the 12.00 am deadline approached. There were jeers and boos.

This is just a teaser. Sports during Covid times would see more such episodes and the Tokyo Olympics would be the ultimate test. The IOC and the organising committee tried to douse rumours of cancellation by releasing Covid-related rulebooks for athletes, officials and press (nothing has been released for fans yet). They say the Games will go on as per schedule in July-August. That optimism isn't misplaced: competitions in many sports have begun across the globe. Unlike last year, athletes are making the right noises. More importantly, vaccines are being rolled out and Olympics-bound competitors will likely be inoculated before the Games.

But pitfalls still persist and the IOC has hurdles to jump. Identifying competitors is one. A substantial chunk of athletes are yet to qualify in various disciplines. Getting all athletes together in one place for qualifying meets amid a pandemic is as challenging as ever. For example, the upcoming BWF German Open—a qualifying meet for badminton—has been skewed. Other sports too face such predicaments. Off the field, the drama continues in Tokyo. There has been strong opposition from the majority of the public and health experts over holding the Games as they believe the influx of athletes and delegations could result in another spate of Covid-19 cases. Now, the organising committee chief, Yoshiro Mori, has resigned after a sexist comment. That has plunged the Games into further chaos. Even as Tokyo is trying to put up a brave face, doubts linger. A decision on whether to allow fans from abroad is yet to be taken. After all, the organisers would definitely like to avoid a Melbourne-like drama in the middle of such a humongous multi-discipline event.

India has created formidable legislative and institutional bulwarks to protect its environment, but none manage to get in the way of potentially damaging projects

THE NEED FOR ECOLOGY FIRST, ECONOMY NEXT

K JAYAKUMAR

Former Kerala chief secretary & ex-VC, Thunchath Ezhuthachan Malayalam Varsity

The Indian state has an ambivalent position in its relationship with the environment. The recent flash flood in the Rishi Ganga river in Chamoli district of Uttarakhand with its unprecedented intensity and virulence along with its human misery and ecological consequences has once again highlighted this fault. The economic growth model that thrives on compulsive consumerism and egregious global capitalism has admittedly no environmental sensitivity. Many countries have a well-articulated position vis-a-vis environmental concerns. For instance, the US does not have overt pretences about eco-sensitivity, though in Joe Biden's presidency they have rejoined the Paris climate agreement. On the other hand, Scandinavian countries and some European nations have a more sensitive and sensible environment policy. China is on the other extreme, with scant respect for environmental discipline.

The Indian state, however, has a record of sorts in its hypocrisy on environmental issues. Successive governments at the Centre and state levels oscillate between environmentally encouraging words and ecologically devastating action. Governments have been generous with the green agenda as well as legislation and institutional arrangements for environmental justice.

We have the forest laws, green tribunals, wetland protection authorities, coastal protection agencies, Environment Impact Assessment rules, pollution control boards, regulations on quarrying and several such safeguards. A cursory look at the legislative and institutional bulwarks the Indian state has created to protect its environment is indeed formidable. Besides, there are high-profile, high-spending programmes like Namami Ganga meant to clean the Ganges. The Centre and state governments have several initiatives to prevent conversion of wetlands and encroachment of forestland, to limit construction in fragile zones and a number of similar initiatives. However, several environment protection and reclamation projects, high-or low-profile, are essentially half-hearted attempts rather than concerted efforts prompted by conviction or commitment. Most of them are nothing more than photo ops for local leaders and enthusiasts.

This fault line and staggering trust deficit are amplified when it comes to governments' enthusiasm for mindless economic development. We have seen that none of the above safeguards really come in the way of promptly granting licenses for reckless quarrying of the forest lands of central India and Odisha. There are no qualms about clearing hydroelectric projects and new dams in the fragile Himalayan valleys. Environmental sensitivity is completely sidestepped for ambitious state-sponsored as well as private sector projects with the blessing of the government. The widening of the road network connecting the Char Dham at phenomenal ecological costs and the massive Central Vista project are two such glaring instances. Governments in power decide on their pet projects and regulatory bodies mandated to critically and objectively examine and advise are often called upon (or intimidated) to say yes in chorus. The feeble voice of environment activists is drowned in the clamour of 'national interest' and the urgency of economic development. A typical instance is the Madhav Gadgil report that rightly highlighted the seminal value of the Western Ghats in conditioning the life, climate and sustainability of the regions lying to the west of

The repeated warnings given by the mighty mountain, the Himalayas, have been callously ignored in our pursuit of more power, money and development

Ghats (South Canara and Kerala). The scientifically tenable report was quickly vilified as regressive and impractical. Even the subsequent watered-down version has not satisfied the pragmatists. The Himalayan ecology is far more fragile. There are several reports of experts warning against wayward intervention in the Himalayan ecosystem. Nonetheless, there is no dearth of dams, hydroelectric projects, construction and tourist circuits in that rarefied landscape.

The spirited words of Jawaharlal Nehru while inaugurating the massive Bhakra Nangal dam in 1954, "Bhakra, the new temple of resurgent India, is the symbol of India's progress", are dated by the current understanding of dams and their deleterious impact. With his scientific temper, Nehru, were he alive today, would have been an ardent votary of environmental values and formulated a nuanced development paradigm for the country. Environmental science was almost non-existent in the 50s. It is but natural that in the nascent glow of national freedom, the country desired a giant push in the form of major dams. However, today, after so much information, awareness and scientific proof of the impending disaster and global warming, it is highly myopic and irresponsible that we still go after reckless development like the rats and children behind the pied piper of Hamelin.

The responses to ecological disasters cannot only be localised. For instance, if warming of the Himalayan zone is the cause of the glacier break that led to the flash floods in Rishi Ganga (the causes have not so far been officially confirmed), the solution is not a quick fix in the Himalayan region. The whole country, nay, the whole world has to act in unison. The present tragedy is unfortunately not the last one the Himalayas would experience. The repeated warnings given by the mighty mountain have been callously ignored in our pursuit of more power, money and development. Unless every one of us starts chanting and practicing the alternative mantra 'less of everything', the avarice of consumerism will make us all vicariously liable for the ecocide waiting in store. We should rather enrich our lives with less consumption, extraction and demand on the environment. The lunge towards the $5 trillion economy could perhaps wait. The present disaster should make the Indian state unambiguously proclaim, 'ecology first, economy next'. The tempting alternative, 'economy first, ecology next' is a sure prescription for catastrophe.

THE WORLD VICTORY PALACE OF KRISHNA DEVA RAYA

SRINIVAS SISTLA

Associate Professor, Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam

Sri Krishna Deva Raya (b. 17 January 1471) became king (r. 1509-1529) of the Vijayanagara Empire when its power was dwindling; for, decades ago, the Kalinga Gajapatis had occupied two important hill-forts at Kondaveedu and Udayagiri in Andhra Pradesh. By 1510, the Raya had built the Ranga Mantapa in Sri Virupaksha temple at Hampi, and then in 1513, he had marched against the Gajapatis, and captured Udayagiri. As Pratapa Rudra Gajapati had fled to Kondaveedu, the Vijayanagara king attacked that hill-fort and captured it on 23 June 1515, and erected the Jaya stambha (victory pillar) there. In the same year, the emperor is said to have built a palace named Bhuvana Vijayamu (World Victory) at Vijayanagara to commemorate his victory.

Krishna Deva Raya had patronised the Asta Diggaja poets, who were like the eight celestial elephants bearing the earth in eight directions. The emperor wrote several works in Sanskrit, but only a few verses have survived. He also wrote the Amuktamalyada, a complex poem of seven cantos in Telugu. His daughter, Mohanangi, had dedicated to him the Marichi Parinayamu, a poem in Telugu, though only parts of it have survived. In 1515, Nandi Timmana wrote in Telugu, the Parijata Apaharanamu, in which he hailed his patron as "O the one who is present in the Bhuvana Vijayamu, like the rising Sun, lending the glow to the nine gems." In 1517, Krishna Deva Raya himself had asked Allasani Peddina to write in Telugu the Manu Charitra, which narrates the legend of Swarochisha, the second of the 14 Manus who figure as great rulers in ancient Indian mythologies. In this poem, Peddana had stated: "In a mansion named Bhuvana Vijayamu / Where scholarly debates take place / Krishna Raya sat on a golden throne, discussing with scholars / About the sweetness of poetry."

In about 1520, Domingo Paes, a Portuguese merchant, came to Vijayanagara, met Krishna Deva Raya in a palace, and also saw another one and said, "This building stands on pillars shaped like elephants and with other figures, all open in front, and they go up to it by staircases of stone... This house is called the House of Victory... as it was made when the king came back from the war against Orya."

In 1565, however, many temples and nearly all palaces at Vijayanagara were destroyed, and the capital of the empire was shifted to Penugonda in Anantapur district of Andhra Pradesh. In about 1567, Cesare Federici, an Italian merchant, stayed for a few months in the ruined capital, and said, "...the city... is not altogether destroyed. Yet the houses stand still, but empty, and there is dwelling in them nothing, as is reported, but tigers and other wild beasts."

Now, the Royal Centre, at the Vijayanagara archaeological site, contains the basements of about 43 edifices, and one of them must be that of the Bhuvana Vijayamu. But the exact location of this palace is unknown as unlike many temples in the Hampi region, no palace contains any inscription that would help in identifying the building. Many earlier scholars had recognised the significance of a particular platform, which was designed like the adhithana (plinth) of a sacred temple. In 1917, A H Longhurst had said, "It represents the ruins of a palace, probably that of the king..." In 1984, three reputed scholars, John M Fritz, George Michell and M S Nagarajarao, published a preliminary report on the Royal Centre, and said about the same plinth that "it is a rectangular structure facing the north, defined by finely carved basement mouldings with elephant balustrades."

In 2019, I had published a book, 'Realms of Tribal Hunting', which presents an art historical study of about one hundred panels that had been carved in the kapota-palika

(pigeon-shaped moulding) of the plinth with elephant balustrades. Though previous scholars had described this plinth as rectangular, a close examination has revealed to me that it was actually designed in the 'T-shape', which is very unique; for, all other plinths at the place are either rectangular or square, which contain four internal corners. Whereas this 'T-shaped plinth' contains eight internal corners; and the same number conceptually matches well with the concept of the eight elephant-like poets of Krishna Deva Raya. An octagonal building would also be having eight corners, but at the place, a bathing pond, fountains and watch towers were designed in that shape. Therefore, the unique 'T-shape' design for this plinth appears to be a new invention made for Krishna Deva Raya to correlate it with his literary interests and poetic pursuits, and moreover the concept of the Asta Diggajas. Incidentally, in Sri Virupaksha temple, the Ranga Mantapa, which I have mentioned earlier as built by the same emperor-poet, was also designed in the same T-shape. To the best of my knowledge, no other temple or the plinth of any other palace at the place was designed in this shape. Therefore, in my opinion, the T-shaped plinth with fine carvings and a pair of elephant balustrades at the Royal Centre must indeed be the surviving portion of the Bhuvana Vijayamu of Krishna Deva Raya.

On 26 August 1527, the emperor-poet had granted to the Asta Diggajas a village, Tippaluru, in Kadapa district of Andhra Pradesh (but the grant mentions no individual poet by name). Around the same time, he wrote in Sanskrit the Jambavati Parinayam, which was published by Briruduraju Ramaraju; it awaits to be translated into English. These activities of Krishna Deva Raya clearly suggest that he had continued his personal literary pursuits as well as the patronage of the Asta Diggajas until the end of his reign. In a Sanskrit-Kannada inscription dated 23 April 1529 at Hampi, the emperor-poet had been hailed as "O the Universal Monarch in the fields of music, literature and battles".

"Sangeeta-saahitya-samaraangana-saavabhouthama / Sri-veera-pratap Sri Veera Krishna Raya."

India must stay vigilant

It is encouraging that India and China look set to end the long standoff at Pangong after several rounds of both diplomatic and military-level talks. But India needs to still remain vigilant. C Ghanshyam, Visakhapatnam

Don't give up patrol rights

While the decision to pull back from the standoff is a step towards restoring peace and tranquillity, we should not take China at face value as they are experts at tactical deception. We must also not give up our right to patrol on our side of the LAC. Sudhakar Cherukunni, Kannur

Empty-words syndrome

Rahul says land ceded to China, govt denies

Ministry of Defence issues rebuttal, ruling party heavyweights join in chorus to dismiss Congress leader's remark

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said India will not let an inch of territory be taken by anyone, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi called PM Narendra Modi a 'coward' and that India has ceded territory to the Chinese. The defence ministry dismissed Gandhi's questions in a statement, while BJP president JP Nadra labelled his claims 'false'.

Addressing a press conference on Friday, Gandhi said Indian troops are now going to be stationed at Finger 3 instead of Finger 4, which is where India's post used to be. "Now we have moved from Finger 4 to Finger 3. Why has Prime Minister Modi given up Indian territory to the Chinese? This is the question that needs to be answered by him and the defence minister. The defence minister sheepishly made statement in the Parliament, why hasn't the PM come forward and answered this."

Calling the PM a "coward who cannot stand up to the Chinese", he said: "He is betraying the sacrifice of our army. Nobody in India should be allowed to do it. Why have Indian troops, after the hard work that they had done in capturing Kailash ranges, been asked to move back?"

The ministry's statement refuted this. "India has not conceded any territory as a result of this agreement. On the contrary, it has enforced observance and respect for LAC and prevented any unilateral change in the status quo. The assertion that Indian territory is up to Finger 4 is categorically false. 5 Even the LAC, as per the Indian perception, is at Finger 8, not at Finger 4. That is why India has persistently maintained the right to patrol up to Finger 8, including in the current understanding with China," it countered.

Nadra dubbed Gandhi's questions a 'new edition of Congress circus'. "Why is he (Rahul) bent on falsely claiming that the disengagement is a loss for India? Is it a part of INC-China MoU?" the BJP leader tweeted.

Others were vocal as well. "The nation cannot forgive the Gandhi family for losing 43,000 sq km to China... When one does not have a moral conscience, when one cannot contribute anything positive, one resorts to lies. Rahul lied left, right and centre. Perhaps Rahul is depressed that he could not become PM," said Union minister Pralhad Joshi.

There were more criticising Gandhi. "I am glad that Congress has finally realised that PM Nehru created a 'Himalayan Blunder' by gifting 38,000 sq km to China. Will it also question its co-owner, the coward Rahul Gandhi for making baseless allegations against PM Modi?" BJP general secretary C T Ravi said.

RAHUL ALLEGES, MINISTRY REFUTES

Taking note of Rahul Gandhi's remarks against the government's strategy at the China border, the Ministry of Defence came up with a rebuttal, saying misinformed comments are made in the media

Rahul Gandhi speaks at a press conference | PARVEEN NEGI

Rahul: Why are our forces withdrawing from dominant positions in Kailash Ranges?
Ministry: India has not conceded any territory. On the contrary, it has enforced observance and respect for LAC and prevented any unilateral change in the status quo. Effective safeguarding of our national interest and territory in the Eastern Ladakh sector has taken place. Those who doubt the achievements made possible by the sacrifices of our military personnel are actually disrespecting them.

Rahul: Why are we ceding our territory & withdrawing from forward base at Finger 4 to Finger 3?
Ministry: The assertion that Indian territory is up to Finger 4 is categorically false. The territory of India is as depicted by the map of India and includes more than 43,000 sq km currently under illegal occupation of China since 1962. Even the Line of Actual Control, as per the Indian perception, is at Finger 8, not Finger 4. That is why India has persistently maintained the right to patrol up to Finger 8, including in the current understanding with China.

Rahul: Why has China not withdrawn from our territory in Depsang Plains & Gogra Hot Springs?
Ministry: Raksha Mantri's statement made clear that there are outstanding problems to be addressed, including at Hot Springs, Gogra and Depsang. The outstanding issues are to be taken up within 48 hrs of the completion of the Pangong Tso disengagement.

China to blame for mistrust: Army chief

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE army chief on Monday underlined a state of distrust which prevails due to the Chinese belligerence and hostile approach towards its neighbours in the region. His statement on Friday came while the troops of China and India were involved in disengagement after a nine-month standoff at the Line of Actual Control.

General MM Naravane said, "The rising footprints of China in India's neighbourhood and its attempts to unilaterally alter the status-quo along our disputed borders have created an environment of confrontation and mutual distrust." The Indian Army chief said this while speaking at a webinar organised by United Service Institution of India and the Assam Rifles on "Evolving security challenges in the north east and way forward".

He added China's behaviour is also leading to regional imbalance and instability. "The Regional Security Environment is characterised by Chinese belligerence in the Indo-Pacific, its hostility towards weaker nations and relentless drive to create regional dependencies through initiatives like the BRI."

KIN OF THOSE TRAPPED LOSING HOPE

"BRING back my brother, even if dead. I will pay you ₹8 lakh," erupted Sunder Silwal, when told by an official that he will get ₹4 lakh as compensation if his 28-year-old brother, who is among those trapped in the tunnel at Tapovan Hydropower Project, died.

Dozens of locals gathered at the site on Friday afternoon, agitated at the delay in rescue. The locals were stopped by police at around 200 meters from the tunnel. It's been six days and some are losing hope of seeing their kin alive. "Ab pata nahi bache bhi honge ya nahi (God knows whether they are even alive or not?)" said Suraj Rao.

Angry at the delay, family members of those trapped alleged that the National Thermal Power Corporation authorities were not doing enough. "What will the army do until provided right technical assistance by NTPC?" said Rita Pant, whose brother is stuck inside.

The locals had angry exchanges with officials throughout the day and police detained at least seven persons, who were released later. Trying to pacify the people, R P Ahirwar, project manager of the hydel power plant, said no effort was being spared. "I urge you all to understand that we are doing everything to save the men who are trapped but there are limitations. We cannot use 10 machines as you are suggesting." Officials took a few locals near the tunnel to show them the rescue efforts, after which the gathering started to disperse.

ABHYUDAY is three years and six months old. He is the son of Chamoli District Magistrate Swati Bhadoria, who is so caught up with rescue operations that she hardly gets the time to see her child. The 2012 batch Indian Administrative Services officer is working over 18 hours since the disaster struck, answering an average of 100-150 calls everyday. "More than mine, hundreds of other lives have been affected irreversibly. I am trying to do as much as I can."

A B Tech in electronics and communication, Swati is peppered with questions from media and local residents. But she remains composed. "I have to focus on rescue and relief. One should not lose cool. It affects efficiency. I understand what these people are going through. We are trying to help as much as we can."

Swati is one of the women involved actively with the operations going on since the disaster struck. There is ITBP DIG Aparna Kumar and Neeru Garg, a deputy inspector of police, who have also been at the spot to manage the scene and conduct activities.

Neeru has a nine-year-old daughter named Pihu. She has had to leave her with her mother in Haridwar. "She waits for my video call along with my three pets. I explained why I have to be away. She is having her mock tests. I have to help her with studies," says the 2005 batch IPS.

"These are unprecedented times and we all are working as a team. I miss my daughter but I see that this calamity has taken away family members of hundreds," she says.

Aparna, who is said to be a walking example of resilience and hard work, spends about 10-12 hours at the spot to monitor the situation. She is the first woman ITBP officer to scale the South Pole and has scaled the seven top peaks of the seven continents.

A recipient of Tenzing Norgay National Adventure Award in 2019, she says: "Right now, I want to save those men. Rest all is background noise."

Presence of these brave women have added another dimension to the rescue operations. They are fully focussed on the objective. Until lives are saved, they are not thinking of rest of near ones.

Global Teacher awardee Disale to change edu system

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE 2020 Global Teacher award winner Ranjeet Disale will mentor teachers in his home state of Maharashtra through 'teacher inspiration' workshops on the use of modern technology in education.

Rural Development Minister Hasan Mushrif informed that through these workshops conducted by Disale, teachers in the state will be trained and they will also gain new confidence.

Acknowledging that the world is changing very fast and technology is a part of life now, Mushrif said, "By using modern technology, teachers will work with more vigour and planning. This initiative will also help change the way communities look at government schools. We have a mega plan and that will be executed in a phase-wise manner."

Speaking to The New Indian Express over phone, Disale said that there is so much hidden talent on ground, but that which hardly gets noticed at the global level. "I was also one of them, but I got the right opportunity and people came to know about my talent. I want to identify teachers who are carrying out various experiments by using technology. Such best practices will be discussed and will be implemented across the state," the teacher said.

Disale said that this talent search workshop will be implemented in 36 districts of Maharashtra. "The state government is helpful, and is also extending all possible financial help. We want to take this workshop as a mission. Once the education system is overhauled, students will also be able to imbibe a lot of talent, and will be able to compete at a global level," he added.

Disale, who works as a teacher at the Zilla Parishad primary school at Paritewadi in Solapur district, won the prize last year in recognition of his efforts for promoting girls' education and triggering a QR code-based 'textbook revolution'. As part of the award, he bagged a cash prize of $1 million, half of which will be shared with nine other finalists of the competition.

Disale has been teaching students of over 1,400 schools in more than 143 countries through the novel initiative of 'virtual field trip', and he has mentored over 16,000 teachers to impart knowledge through technology.

SC issues notice to Centre & Twitter on PIL seeking clampdown on hate speech

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE Supreme Court on Friday sought responses from the Centre and Twitter India on a plea seeking a mechanism to check fake news and instigative messages being circulated via social media, especially Twitter.

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India SA Bobde issued notice to the Centre and Twitter Communication India Pvt Ltd on a plea filed by Vinit Goenka, which said there are hundreds of fake Twitter handles and bogus Facebook accounts in the name of eminent people and dignitaries. The bench also directed that the matter be tagged with similar pending petitions seeking social media regulation.

The petition comes at a time when the Central government has been pressing Twitter to block over 1,000 accounts and posts that it says have been spreading misinformation and provocative content linked to the farmers' agitation against the three new farm laws. The counsel appearing for Goenka said directions are needed for establishing a mechanism to regulate hateful content on the social networking site.

"These fake Twitter handles and Facebook accounts use real photos of constitutional authorities and eminent citizens. Therefore, common man relies upon the messages published from these Twitter handles and Facebook accounts," the plea stated. "The said platform (Twitter) is being used to call upon separatists, creating panic in some sections of the society, challenging the unity, integrity and sovereignty of India," added the plea.

No disagreement, claims ministry of environment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

RESPONDING to a news item headlined 'Ministry vs ministry over future of 6hydel projects' published on February 9, the ministry of environment and forests clarified that there was "no disagreement as the news report tries to portray between (the) Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change and (the) Ministry of Jal Shakti."

The clarification further said that an affidavit based on the "agreed position" between the two ministries had been "approved by the secretary, MoEF&CC on January 19, 2021" and this would be filed in the Supreme Court at the next date of hearing in July.

This newspaper stands by the story as it was based on the separate and contradictory affidavits filed to date by the two ministries since 2016. These affidavits are available in public domain.

Moreover, as the ministry of environment and forests has stated, an affidavit on the "agreed position" will be filed in the court only in July.

Nasal vax trials nod touted as a game changer

Experts say Bharat Biotech's Covid-19 spray vaccine could be more effective than injections

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

WITH India's apex drug regulator approving Bharat Biotech to start clinical trials of intranasal Covid-19 vaccine candidate, hopes have risen that the country could soon have a crucial and easy tool to prevent the highly infectious disease.

As intranasal vaccine requires minimal training to administer and will not need a needle and syringe, it is being touted as a game changer in controlling the pandemic. A subject expert committee on Covid-19 of the CDSCO earlier this month permitted the Hyderabad-based vaccine maker to launch the Phase I clinical trial of an intranasal vaccine candidate for the Covid-19.

"After detailed deliberation, the committee recommended for the conduct of proposed Phase I clinical trial," said the minutes of the SEC meeting. The approval followed Bharat Biotech presenting its proposal along with revised Phase I clinical trial protocol of the chimpanzee adenovirus vectored Covid-19 Vaccine intranasal as sought by the committee, at its meeting last month.

Bharat Biotech and Washington University School of Medicine in St Louis had announced a licensing agreement in September for the nasal vaccine candidate, under which the company bagged the distribution rights in all markets except the US, Japan and Europe.

As per the CDSCO approval, the Phase 1 trial will involve testing the vaccine candidate on 75 volunteers in the proposed doses as per the protocol and will help generate safety and immunogenicity data.

"A nasal vaccine candidate has been identified. It has come for consideration for phase 1 and phase 2 trials. If it works then it could be a game-changer," VK Paul, member (health), Niti Aayog had said last month. Many experts feel that nasal spray vaccines, apart from being easy to administer, is far likelier to prevent the virus from gaining a foothold in the body at an earlier stage.

"There is so much stress on these vaccines because the evidence so far suggests that they can generate what we call a mucosal immune response," said a member of the National Covid-19 task force. "In comparison to injectable vaccines, nasal sprays could also be far effective in reducing a person to person transmission of the disease."

DEFAMATION

UP cops file case against Pichai, then drop name

LUCKNOW: An FIR was lodged against Google CEO Sunder Pichai and 17 others, including Kenneth Hoi Wai, director, Google India Private Limited, at Bhelupur police station in Varanasi, last week over a video clip that allegedly defamed PM Narendra Modi.

However, later, after primary inquiry, the names of Pichai, Hoi Wai and the Google India Private Limited were removed from the report, said the police on Friday.

In all, a dozen and a half persons were booked on the basis of a complaint filed by one Girija Shankar Jaiswal, a resident of Gaugrija of Varanasi. In his FIR, Jaiswal, in his complaint, claimed that he was being threatened after he raised objection to the video clip. He claimed that so far he had received over 8,500 threat calls over his cell phone. ENS

Security audit of Ram temple on cards to make it impregnable

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WHILE the work on proposed Ram temple's foundation in Ayodhya is underway, discussions and deliberations on making the premises impregnable by installing foolproof security in and around it are also going on among the Shree Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust and others officials concerned.

According to highly placed sources, the authorities concerned have decided to get a security audit of the Ram Janmabhoomi premises conducted to ensure highest standards of safety and security measures in and around the upcoming temple and other related buildings.

Sources at the trust said central agencies would be roped in to prepare a layout of the security ring to be laid in and around the complex. The security audit of the temple premises

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi kept up with his attacks on PM Narendra Modi and the central government over the farm laws as he began his two-day visit to Rajasthan on Friday.

Addressing a Kisan Mahapanchayat at Pilibanga in Hanumangarh, Gandhi reiterated his allegation that these legislations were meant to benefit only two corporates and would impact 40 per cent people in the country, including farmers, labourers, traders, small shopkeepers and arthiyas (middlemen).

An aggressive Rahul argued that agriculture is the largest 'business' in India. "This is the business of Bharat Mata that feeds the nation...The Congress has always tried to ensure that the business is never

PILOT 'NOT ALLOWED' TO SPEAK DURING RAHUL'S TOUR

Political circles in Rajasthan abuzz with talk of Congress leader Sachin Pilot being apparently sidelined during his colleague Rahul Gandhi's tour of the state that began on Friday. Though Pilot was present on the stage with Gandhi, he did not address the 'Kisan Mahapanchayat' in Hanumangarh. He, however, spoke briefly in Sri Ganganagar.

'TRUDEAU LAUDED INDIA FOR HOLDING TALKS WITH FARMERS'

India on Friday said the Canadian PM commended New Delhi's efforts to maintain dialogue with the farmers. "On the protests, Trudeau commended efforts of the government to choose the path of dialogue as befitting in democracy," MEA Spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

Intensify social media slugfest, send 50L messages per hour: Shah to Bengal BJP

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

HOME Minister Amit Shah has instructed BJP's social media workers to intensify the online slugfest ahead of the upcoming West Bengal Assembly elections, asking them to send 50 lakh contents per hour. Inaugurating a new App titled Modi Para (Modi locality), Shah set up a target of 2 crore people and asked the party workers to include them in cyber activities. He also directed the workers to divide the saffron camp's cyber soldiers in Bengal into four groups to carry out activities of preparing content, spreading it on social media platforms, analyzing the content politically, and study people's reactions.

The BJP's Bengal chapter has an incomparable social media wing comprising 60 lakh-strong manpower and 40,000 WhatsApp groups.

While addressing the social media workers, Shah said, "You will have to take the Centre's projects and BJP's ideology to the booth level. Keep yourself busy carrying out this task, instead of chitchatting with your friends on WhatsApp. Build up such a strong network on WhatsApp so that you can circulate 50 lakh messages in an hour."

The BJP in Bengal has been aggressively campaigning on the social media. On several occasions in the recent past, CM Mamata Banerjee accused the BJP of using its social media network to circulate fake contents.

Covid testing 'irregularities': Nitish orders probe

Patna: Chief Minister Nitish Kumar on Friday said strong note has been taken of reports in a section of the media about irregularities in the testing of Covid-19 in the state. Talking to reporters in Patna upon his return from a two-day visit to Delhi, Kumar said he had telephoned the principal secretary of the health department upon reading the reports in newspapers. He (the principal secretary) told me that the department has swung into action and records of 22 districts have been examined. In one district some anomalies appear to have taken place... "I have called for speedy investigation into the matter," the CM said.

Assam rolls back fuel cess, Oppn calls it a poll stunt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

@ Guwahati

GIVING some respite to the people of poll-bound Assam, the BJP-led state government has removed the additional cess of ₹5 levied on petrol and diesel levied last year at the peak of Covid-19 pandemic. The revised rate will come into effect from today midnight.

Presenting a vote-on-account for ₹60,784.03 crore in the Assembly, Assam Finance Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said the government has also decided to rollback 25 per cent cess on alcohol.

Sarma said the government was forced to levy the additional cess on fuel and liquor during the difficult times of the pandemic. "Now, as the number of Covid-infected people has got reduced drastically, the government has decided to withdraw the additional cess on petrol, diesel and alcohol. I am thankful to my Cabinet colleagues who endorsed my proposal on the cess rollback," he said.

The opposition parties viewed it as a move by the BJP to woo the voters ahead of the Assembly polls. "Fuel hike has been going on all over the country for a long time. Why didn't they lower the prices before? It is an election stunt. You will notice that once the polls are over, they will hike the prices again," Assam Congress leader Bobeeta Sarma told this newspaper.

The Asom Jatiya Parishad (AJP), floated last year against the backdrop of the agitation against Citizenship (Amendment) Act, also viewed the government's move as election-centric.

"This is an election-centric decision. For close to five years, they kept hiking the prices of fuel. Now, by lowering the prices, they are trying to attract the voters," AJP chief Lurinjoyti Gogoi said.

Cong: Mizoram encroaching on Assam's land

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

@ Guwahati

THE Congress on Friday mounted an attack on the BJP-led state govt over Assam's land getting squeezed due to alleged encroachments by Mizoram.

Referring to frequent violent skirmishes on the border with Mizoram, Congress MLA Kamalakhya Dey Purkayastha said in the assembly that it was time the government took some strong action. "This government had promised to protect 'jati (community), mati (land) and bheti (foundation)', but we are steadily losing our land to Mizoram. Accompanied by policemen, miscreants and students from Mizoram often raid the border villages in the Barak Valley and encroach upon our land. This has to stop," the MLA from the Valley said.

After encroaching upon Assam's land, they carry out some construction and hoist the flag of their students' organisation, he alleged. Sujam Uddin Laskar, another MLA from Barak Valley, also urged the government to act before it was too late.

In his reply, minister Chandra Mohan Patowary said, "We don't want any confrontation but cooperation. We had discussions. We will sit again so the issue can be resolved amicably."

Char Dham: Environmentalists rue tree felling

Environmentalists have expressed concern over felling of over 36,000 trees for the Char Dham road project connecting shrines of Badrinath, Kedamath, Gangotri and Yamunotri. Estimated 56,000 trees are needed to be cut for the 889 km road widening project. Residents of the hill areas through which the project passes have made several complaints against the proposal to cut the trees, but so far, they have been disappointed by the inaction of the authorities concerned. Inder Bisht, a resident of Rudrapur district, who has complained to the authorities, said: "Such a massive scale of rock cutting and tree felling is an invitation to a disaster. We have already witnessed what happened in 2013."

Week-long yoga festival in Rishikesh next month

The Uttarakhand state tourism department will host a week-long International Yoga Festival in Rishikesh next month. The festival, to be held from March 1-7, is expected to witness the participation of top yoga teachers, folk artists and singers. State Tourism and Culture Minister Satpal Maharaj said: "Plans are to invite yoga acharyas to the International Yoga Festival so that the attendees receive proper education about yoga. An astrology session will also be organised at the festival." Officials of the department said after reviewing the present Covid-19 scenario, the decision has been made to host the event next month. The festival will also have a workshop to promote Uttarakhand's products as immunity boosters at the event along with live streaming, webinars and workshops to be facilitated to maximise the reach of the event.

Tourism stakeholders happy after new rules

After the Uttarakhand government's new guidelines to relax the norms for visiting the hill state, stakeholders from the tourism industry are expecting a boost in the business. Dinesh Chandra Sah, president of Nainital Hotel Association, said: "This will help revive the tourism industry in the state." From now on, no registration will be required to visit the state and no random sampling tests will be conducted on border, stated the guidelines. Wearing masks, maintaining social distancing and downloading Arogya Setu app is still must.

Budget session to be held in Gairsain

The Budget session of the Uttarakhand Assembly will be held in Gairsain, the summer capital of the state, from March 1-9. Announcing this on Tuesday, CM Trivendra Singh Rawat said the roadmap for the development of the state will be worked out during the important session of the state Assembly. Rawat said Gairsain is being developed to make the summer capital beautiful. Gairsain, a town in Chamoli district, was made the summer capital of the state in June last year. The CM again appealed to the enlightened people of the state to offer their suggestions for the budget.

Singapore: After the pandemic torpedoed his chance to work at a Michelin-starred New York restaurant, Lim Wee Keat returned to his roots by becoming a Singapore street-food chef cooking local fare. The 25-year-old is among a growing number of young street-food vendors — known as “hawkers” locally — fuelling hopes that a new generation will preserve the city-state’s culinary traditions. With many chefs heading toward retirement—their median age is 59—and young Singaporeans often shunning the trade, there were fears that hawker traditions and their delicious dishes could be lost

Govt plots fiscal deficit reduction with GDP growth

The Union budget is aimed at ensuring development, growth and reform, says FM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday defended the high fiscal deficit numbers in the Union Budget and said that the government is working to bring down the country's fiscal deficit without creating any constraints for India's economic growth.

"We are looking at medium-term and long-term sustainable growth which will ensure that India remains the fastest growing economy of the world," Sitharaman said in her reply to the Budget discussions in the Parliament. During the Budget presentation, Sitharaman has pegged the fiscal deficit for 2020-21 at 9.5 per cent of GDP, for 2021-22 at 6.8 per cent and aims to bring it back below the 4.5 per cent mark by FY26.

The government, she said, has not "hurried" while announcing any fiscal deficit number. Sitharaman also rejected the 'budget for the rich' allegation and said that the Opposition has created a "false narrative" about crony capitalism. Similarly, she has faced down critics and reiterated the Centre's commitment to privatise government-owned firms barring a few in four strategic sectors. "It has now become a sort of a habit for some in opposition to constantly allege whatever this government is doing — despite what we are doing for the poor, and more needs to be done, that is not denied at all," she said. She went on to list the steps taken by the government during the Covid-19 pandemic, and pointed out that the government has spent the highest-ever ₹90,469 crore under the MNRGA rural employment scheme.

Sitharaman's remarks come a day after Congress leader Rahul Gandhi termed the Union Budget 2021-22 as "crony centric", which "betrays" the employers of the Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises. P Chidambaram, too, had termed the Budget as "disappointing" on Thursday.

However, the finance minister lashed out at the Congress in the Rajya Sabha and said that the government schemes are meant only to benefit the poor and not the "Damaad", taking a dig at Robert Vadra, who is the son-in-law of Congress President Sonia Gandhi.

FINTECH

Razorpay to create 650 new jobs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FINTECH unicorn Razorpay on Friday said it will hire 650 people over the next few months this year across its engineering, products, customer experience, sales and marketing divisions. The company said that it has decided to ramp up hiring after witnessing a 3x growth in revenues in 2020. The pandemic-induced digital acceleration has also boosted the online payments vertical with a majority of the businesses now processing transactions online. Razorpay said it plans to hire for both fresher and lateral positions.

"With the rising adoption of digital payments during Covid-19 and thousands of businesses going online for the first time, there is a lot of scope for interesting innovations in business payments. This story of innovation and disruption will continue and grow stronger in the next few months and hence our hiring plans are being driven by more investment in product development, customer experience and new additions to the existing product suite so that we cater to the ever-evolving payment and banking needs of SMEs and MSMEs.

The company had reached the 1-billion valuation mark in the pandemic year. In December 2020, it claimed that to have processed payments worth $30 billion, and this number is set to touch $50 billion in the next year. Razorpay powers payments for over five million businesses, including Airtel, BookMyShow, Ola, Zomato, etc.

Discom dues reverse direction in December, decreases marginally

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE amount of money India's power distribution companies (discoms) owe power generators (gencos) reversed direction for the first time in several months in December 2020, falling from ₹1,27,128 crore at the start of the month to ₹1,27,108 crore as of December 31, 2020. The fall in the amount of dues is a promising sign that the Centre's liquidity assistance scheme may finally be working to not just slow the accumulation of dues, but shrink the existing debt pile. According to power sector executives, improving demand and bill payments are also helping in arresting the trend.

According to data released on the Union Ministry of Power's PRAAPTI web portal, discom dues have been on a steady rise upwards since the beginning of the pandemic—going from ₹99,017 crore at the end of March 2020 to a whopping ₹1,23,207 crore by the end of June. This rapid accumulation of debt forced the Centre to bail out discoms through a debt-based liquidity assistance scheme in May, one that sources say has so far seen nearly ₹1.3 lakh crore of loans sanctioned and over ₹40,000 crore of which have already been disbursed. Once money began flowing through the scheme, the rapid piling up of debt slowed down considerably as discoms began to pay more of their pending dues to gencos, with total dues rising to just ₹1,27,128 crore by November.

For instance, in the April-May 2020 period, discoms paid an average of just ₹6,394 crore per month to gencos, less than half the ₹13,550 a month paid the previous quarter and ₹12,884 crore a month paid between October-December 2019. Assisted by the loans, however, this number rose to ₹13,327 crore a month in the June-September quarter, ₹11,834 crore in October 2020, and ₹12,437 crore in November 2020. This figure hit ₹14,596 crore during the month of December.

ISRO-MapmyIndia set to bring India made rival to Google Maps

BISMAL MALIK @ Bengaluru

AS voices around homegrown technology gain momentum, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) has partnered with a desi navigation solutions provider MapmyIndia to offer indigenous mapping and geospatial services in the country to take on Google Maps. The announcement comes at a time when the Modi government has opened the space sector to private firms, paving way for research bodies to partner with deep tech start-ups.

In a blogspot, MapmyIndia CEO Rohan Verma said that the partnership will help ease the "hidden cost burden for users as well as depict true sovereignty of the country". He added that this would be yet another path-breaking milestone in the Atmanirbhar Bharat journey which would reduce dependence of Indians on foreign firms for navigation and geospatial services.

"MapmyIndia, being a responsible, local, Indian company, ensures that its maps reflect the true sovereignty of the country, depicting India's borders as per Government of India, and hosts its maps in India," Verma said. In a separate statement, ISRO, too, confirmed that it has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with CE Info Systems Pvt Ltd, the parent firm of MapmyIndia in a bid to jointly identify and build holistic geospatial solutions.

Further, the MapmyIndia CEO added that the company doesn't have an advertising-led business model unlike Google which utilises the user locations and movement data to serve them targeted advertisements. Through this partnership, MapmyIndia's end-user maps and services will now integrate with ISRO's huge catalogue of satellite imagery and earth observation data. It would bring a more detailed, hyperlocal and privacy-centric mapping solution for India.

NCLT reserves order on Future's plea

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

KISHORE Biyani-led Future Group has moved an application in the Mumbai bench of National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) seeking its approval to hold its shareholders meeting on the scheme of amalgamation with Reliance group.

The application was moved under Sections 230-232 of the Companies Act, 2013. However, the tribunal has reserved its order on the Group's plea. A bench comprising members Suchitra Kanuparthi and Chandrabhan Singh, that heard the matter in a virtual format has directed Amazon and other parties to make written submissions within three days. To be sure, even the Reliance Group entities have moved an application in the NCLT seeking approval to move ahead with the amalgamation deal with Future. But, the tribunal is yet to hear the matter.

Darius Khambata, senior counsel representing Future Group entities, questioned Amazon's objections arguing that it was not a party to this case. However, senior counsels, who represented Amazon, said on Friday that the NCLT mustn't approve Future Group's plea, citing the award granted by the Singapore emergency arbitrator. On Thursday, Amazon had moved to Supreme Court against ₹24,713 crore Future-

Reliance Retail deal, challenging the lifting of "status quo" orders by the division bench of Delhi High Court. Claiming that the division bench should've waited for the single judge's order before lifting the stay on the deal, Amazon has contended that the emergency arbitrator's order was valid under Indian law and Future Group was a signatory to it.

Meanwhile, the Future Group companies have piled up huge debts. It is now planning to restructure the debt under the Reserve Bank of India's one-time restructuring scheme.

ASIAN STOCKS ON HOLD FOR LUNAR NEW YEAR

Asian shares hovered just below a record high on Friday as mixed US economic data caused some investors to show restraint after a global stock market rally pushed many bourses to dizzying heights. MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan fell 0.05%, trading just shy of an all-time high reached in the previous session. Markets in Greater China and most of Southeast Asia are closed on Friday for the Lunar New Year holiday. China's markets are closed through February 17. The MSCI world equity index, which tracks shares in 49 countries, fell 0.03% on Friday, pulling back from a record high. Prices held near record as investors bet on more government spending, although enthusiasm was tempered when US President Joe Biden said China was poised to 'eat our lunch,' raising fears of renewed strain on Sino-US ties.

NORTH KOREA'S KIM JONG FIRES ECONOMY MINISTER

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un sacked his economy chief appointed just last month and denounced his cabinet for lack of innovation in a new five-year economic plan, as per reports. The ruling Workers' Party wrapped up its four-day plenary meeting, where Kim also mapped out his vision for inter-Korean affairs and relations with other countries, party rules and personnel issues. With the economy topping the agenda, Kim renewed action plans for a five-year strategy which was unveiled at last month's party congress amid international sanctions, a prolonged border closure and reduced outside aid due to the coronavirus pandemic. The committee appointed O Su Yong, a long-time policymaker who previously served as a vice premier, to be the new director of its Department of Economic Affairs, replacing Kim Tu Il who was appointed in January. The party decided to build 10,000 homes in capital Pyongyang this year, replacing a previous construction plan that Kim described as too low.

OIL

GLOBAL FUEL PRICES JUMP ON RISING DEMAND IN ASIA, US

Global oil and fuel prices are picking up as demand returns to pre-pandemic levels amid easing coronavirus lockdowns and increasing road travels in key countries like China and India. Gasoline prices in Asia, Europe and the US all scaled 1-year highs this week, while benchmark global crude oil Brent futures topped $60 per barrel for the first time in a year. The firmer prices are welcome news after the oil sector suffered its worst ever demand contraction in 2020, encouraging traders to drain brimming storage tanks to ease a supply glut. In its outlook, OPEC noted that current demand levels were still lagging, but expected to pick up in H2 2021. Asia's gasoline demand is expected to increase by 400,000 bpd in February from January, and the expansion over a small period in 2019 was closer to 600,000 bpd. With Asian refiners scheduled to curb output for annual facility maintenance in Q2, Asia's gasoil surplus could narrow to around 300,000 bpd in April-May from 500,000 bpd in Q2, as per estimates.

Petronet LNG sees profit spike 30% on resurgent demand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

NATURAL gas major Petronet LNG posted a 30 per cent spike in its net profit for the quarter ended December 2020, clocking in earnings of ₹878.47 crore as opposed to ₹675.18 crore recorded in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

"The strong financial results for the quarter was achieved due to resurgence of demand to pre-COVID-19 level, operational efficiency and effective commercial planning," Petronet's new Managing Director and CEO A K Singh said.

The imposition of the lockdown last year had resulted in a large demand drop in Petronet's primary business—importing liquid natural gas, regasifying it, and selling it to users such as fertiliser units and power plants who use the fuel to manufacture urea and generate electricity. However, the rising general demand for energy has helped the company in the December quarter.

Petronet's main liquefied natural gas (LNG) import terminal at Dahej in Gujarat processed 222 trillion British thermal units of gas in the third quarter of the current fiscal, the same as the volume handled a year back. "The Dahej terminal operated at 97.3 per cent of its nameplate capacity in the quarter while the one at Kochi operated at 19.9 per cent capacity," noted Singh, adding that the commissioning of the Kochi-Mangalore pipeline would increase Kochi's capacity utilisation to 30 per cent.

Nalco registers ₹240 cr profit for Dec quarter

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-OWNED National Aluminum Co Ltd (Nalco) on Friday reported a consolidated profit of ₹239.71 crore for the quarter ended December 31, 2020. However, the company had posted a consolidated loss of ₹33.90 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous financial year. Nalco, in a regulatory filing, said that its consolidated income during October-December 2020 increased to ₹2,414.95 crore, compared with ₹2,136.57 crore in the year-ago period. "Nalco has shown overall growth and resilience to script a turnaround after the peak period of the Covid-19 pandemic. The employees and workers delivered, when it mattered under challenging circumstances," said Nalco Chairman and Managing Director Sridhar Patra.

On the production front, the company achieved strong growth in the third quarter of the current fiscal. Exports also registered impressive growth.

Karur Vysya Bank profit jumps 133%, asset quality improves Chennai: Karur Vysya Bank (KVB) has reported a 133 per cent increase in its profit for the third quarter ended December 2020 to ₹35 crore from ₹15 crore during the same period last year. Net interest margin stood at 3.29 per cent. While Net NPA fell to 2.55 per cent as against 4.13 per cent a year ago, Gross NPA also declined to 7.37 per cent to ₹3,842 crore from ₹4,424 crore the previous year.

Grasim Q3 PAT surges 103% to ₹1,384 cr on demand recovery

New Delhi: Grasim Industries Ltd, a flagship company of the Aditya Birla Group, has reported a 103 per cent increase in consolidated PAT (profit after tax) at ₹1,384 crore for the third quarter of FY21, mainly on account of pick up in consumer demand. Consolidated revenue for the quarter went up by 13 per cent to ₹20,986 crore, while consolidated EBITDA was recorded at ₹4,476 Cr, up 52 per cent.

'Auto industry faces twin challenges of rising input prices, global chip shortage'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

COMMERCIAL vehicles major Ashok Leyland has been witnessing an uptick in demand, but a sharp increase in prices of commodities and shortage in the supply of semiconductors remains a cause for concern, said its chief financial officer Gopal Mahadevan.

Mahadevan said that the global auto industry, in fact, is affected by these two challenges. "We are constantly in touch with our suppliers to address the supply constraints, he said, adding that to offset raw material price increase, Ashok Leyland has hiked prices by around 1.5 per cent. "There has already been a price hike in January and if commodity prices and some precious metals continue to increase, then we may have to go for another price hike. But as the economy is on a growth path, we are confident that it will be absorbed by the market," he said on Friday.

Volumes in the heavy commercial vehicle segment rose on a year-on-year basis in the December quarter after eight straight quarters of decline. Mahadevan also highlighted that the government's push on infrastructure will further give a boost to their business. He also added that the company has incurred around ₹450 crore in capex and ₹260 crore investments during this fiscal.

In the quarter ended December, the firm has posted a net loss of ₹19 crore, which includes exceptional item of one-time VRS cost of ₹85 crore.

(3) Consequent upon defaults committed by the above named borrowers in payment of the principal debt/interest as per agreed terms, your loan account mentioned above has been classified as Non-Performing Asset on 31.01.2019 as per Reserve Bank of India guidelines and directives. Despite our reminders for regularization of our account, you have not repaid the overdue loans including interest thereon. (4) Since you the above named borrowers have failed to meet the liabilities in respect of the credit facilities duly secured by the security mentioned above and upon classification of your account as Non-Performing Asset, we hereby recall our advances to you and give you notice under Sub-Section (2) of Section 13 of the Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 and call upon you to pay in full and discharge your liabilities to the Bank aggregating to Rs. 5,22,368.04 (Rupees Five Lakhs and Twenty Two Thousand Three Hundred and Sixty Eight and Four Paise Only) as detailed in para 1 above, with further interest @ (rate of interest @ 9.95% + 2% penal interest) compounded with monthly rests as agreed, from the date mentioned above, within 60 days from the date of receipt of this notice. (5) The above named guarantor under SI. No. 3, 4 and 5 have given undertaking for repayment/guarantees for the credit facilities taken by the borrower under SI.No. 1. The borrower at SI.No. 2 has mortgaged her property herein mentioned to secure the above said credit facilities. Since the borrowers have committed defaults in repayment, the guarantors/mortgagors have become liable to pay to us in terms of the guarantee/mortgage executed, the amounts due to the Bank as per the loan/credit facilities aggregating to Rs. 5,22,368.04 (Rupees Five Lakhs and Twenty Two Thousand Three Hundred and Sixty Eight and Four Paise Only) together with further interest @ 9.95% + 2% penal interest towards LAP 2308034530000001 compounded with monthly rest as agreed & charges and we hereby invoke guarantee against guarantors and enforce securities of mortgagors under the SARFAESI Act. and call upon you to pay the said amount within sixty days from the date of receipt of this notice. Please be advised that, the guarantor's liability is co-extensive with the liability of the borrowers. (6) We further give notice to the borrowers namely Smt. Sarojamma & Sri K. Kumar and mortgagors / guarantors who have given non-agri securities enforceable under the SARFAESI Act namely Sri Venkatesh, Smt. Parvathamma & Smt. Manjula that failing payment of the above amount in full with interest and charges etc till the date of payment, we shall be exercising all or any of the rights vested on us, under sub-section (4) of section 13 of the said Act. (7) Please note that in law the borrowers and guarantors are jointly and severally liable to pay the dues with further interest and charges etc. (8) Please note that interest will continue to accrue at the rates and rests as agreed for each credit facility until full repayment. (9) Your attention is also invited to Sub-Section (13) of Section 13 of the said Act in terms of which you are restrained from transferring/assigning/shifting any of the secured assets referred to above by way of sale, lease or otherwise, without obtaining our prior written consent. Please also note that non-compliance/contravention of the provisions contained in the said Act or Rules made here under, is an offence which is punishable with imprisonment and/or fine as provided under Section 29 of the Act. (10) The guarantors referred under SI.No. 3, 4 and 5 have given personal guarantee to secure the loans of the said borrowers and as such we advise you to prevail upon the borrowers to repay the dues as per our demand since we have the right to initiate action against you simultaneously in accordance with law, for recovery of our dues based on your personal guarantee. (11) We also put all of you on notice that if the account is not regularized/repaid within the stipulated time and in case of the Bank classifying you as a willful defaulter as per RBI Guidelines, the Bank reserves its rights to publish your photographs in Newspaper(s) with your name, address, details of default, dues etc., in accordance with RBI Guidelines besides initiating all resources available to the Bank for recovery. (12) We also advise you that this Demand Notice is without prejudice to and shall not be construed as waiver of any other rights or remedies which we have for recovery of the above said dues as well as our right to make further demands in respect of the sums due and payable by you. (13) Further, attention is invited to provisions of Sub-Section (8) of the Section 13 of the Act, in respect of the time available, to redeem the secured assets.

MORE THAN A SECOND

Rahane plays down talk of his indifferent batting form, backs team to do well in 2nd Test

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

ONE thing this Indian team doesn't do is over-analyse. They didn't go down that hole after the 36 all out at Adelaide. So it's no surprise to note that they haven't strayed into that territory after that loss against England in the first Test here.

Vice-captain Ajinkya Rahane admitted as much in the pre-match press conference. "Re-grouping is addressing concerns but not tending to over-think. At times when you lose, you tend to delve deep into the reasons and that brings in negativity and it's not your fault but you still start blaming yourself. What happened in the last Test, we need to accept. We need to move on." One more loss, India would be staring down the barrel. The famed MA Chidambaram square has been the point of discussion so far and will be in focus for the next five days, if the game goes to the wire.

Move on is something they did well post that Adelaide defeat. But they haven't been in this situation at home a lot of times. Under the pump at home after losing the first game of a series: it's only happened thrice since the beginning of 2010. Rahane himself did well to move on post that Adelaide debacle. As a stand-in captain in Melbourne, he scored a match-winning 100.

But one reason why India lost that first Test was a lack of runs from the middle-order. The main weak-link in that middle-order in the first Test was Rahane's 1 and 0. In fact, apart from his Melbourne ton, he's had a long run of indifferent form. Sample these numbers: 0, 1, 24, 37, 4, 22, 27 n.o., 112, 0, 42, 9, 7, 29, 46 (recent innings first). From the beginning of 2020, he has scored only 360 runs in 14 innings at an average of 27.69. Those numbers do not inspire. However, when he was about his string of low scores, he went on the offensive.

"We are playing at home after two years. Our last home series was against South Africa. If you take (the scores of that series) out, you will find something over there," he said.

New faces: England ring in changes to stay ahead of race

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

SINCE the turn of the century, only twice have visiting teams gone into the second match of a three-plus Test series in India with a 1-0 lead. Australia in 2001 and 2017 and England now. On both occasions India went on to win the series. In the same period, India have lost consecutive Tests at home only once. Against England in 2012 at Mumbai and Kolkata. As they head into the second Test against the same opposition at the MA Chidambaram Stadium on Saturday, the hosts are suddenly feeling the pressure.

A defeat means they can kiss goodbye to qualifying for the final of the ICC World Test Championship. A draw will keep them in the race, but considering the pitch for the second Test is going to 'take turn from Day 1', in the words of India vice-captain Ajinkya Rahane, a result is a given. With the toss playing a crucial role in deciding the winner in the first Test, it is unlikely to play a big role here, if Rahane's words are anything to go by. After India arrived for practice by afternoon, the pitch was kept covered from the sun before the cover was removed in the evening.

Despite winning the first Test, England will be ringing in the changes. Their rotation policy, will continue. James Anderson, who broke India's back on Day 5, will make way for Stuart Broad. The policy extends to the keeping slot too as Ben Foakes will take over the gloves from Jos Buttler. With off-spinner Dom Bess struggling for consistency, England have opted to bring in Moeen Ali, a move that will strengthen their batting. With Jofra Archer already out, England are yet to decide between Olly Stone and Chris Woakes for the second seamer's slot.

In a year where England play 17 Tests, and bio-bubble environment taking a toll, they believe fresh legs and minds will make a difference.

Hyderabad snatch point

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

HYDERABAD FC extended their unbeaten run to nine games as they drew 1-1 against SC East Bengal in the ISL at the Tilak Maidan Stadium on Friday. It seemed Bright Enohakhare's second half goal would be enough for the Kolkata giants but Aridane Santana grabbed the equaliser in the added time.

The result means Hyderabad climbed up to third with 24 points from 17 games. The Nizams refuse to die and Friday was further evidence of that fact and it was their ninth draw of the season. The Red and Golds climbed up to ninth with 17 points from as many games. The draw also saw ATK Mohun Bagan confirm their presence for the knockout stage.

Govt clears charter flight costs of judokas

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

AVTAR Singh and his family had to mortgage their house and spend all their savings to ensure he participated in the 2016 Rio Olympics. The story has not changed much as far as country's judokas are concerned. These lesser-known athletes from the country will experience something new when they board a charter flight from Istanbul, Turkey to participate in a tournament in Israel.

Due to strict Covid-19 guidelines, normal flights are not allowed in Israel. Given the situation, the judokas, who will compete in the Tel Aviv Grand Slam slated from February 18 to 20, have to board the charter flight from Istanbul. The Central government will bear the expenses including the cost of the charter flight.

"I'm excited as this will be the first time we will be boarding a charter flight. The priority is to give our best in the tournament," Tulika Mann (78kg), one of the two Indian women judokas who is set to compete in the event, told this daily.

Tulika was all praise for the Sports Authority of India (SAI), saying the support has motivated them to win laurels for the country. "The support is phenomenal. Now, we want to repay the faith shown on us. Besides, the three months of training at Bhopal SAI centre has prepared us better for the tournament." The Indian team will leave on February 15.

CHANGED LINE-UPS GEAR UP FOR CHENNAI 2.0

Onus on India to change narrative of the series against England after trailing 0-1. Here's a look at potential talking points of the second Test, beginning on Saturday...

Changed teams

Both teams will change the complexion of the side, more so England. The challenge is to hope that the likes of Stuart Broad and Moeen Ali bring in the same sort of attitude. India will hope Axar Patel, who will make his debut, will offer more control than Shahbaz Nadeem.

Root factor

The skipper has been different gravy this year, having made nearly 39% of all England's runs. The way he handles spin could have a major bearing. With pitch expected to turn from Day 1, his mere presence out in the middle will calm the visitors when they are batting.

India's middle-order

One reason why India lost that first Test was the way their middle-order was felled by Dom Bess on the third day. If the likes of Ajinkya Rahane and Virat Kohli can contribute, it could make a world of difference.

Two masks are better than one, finds CDC study

US government researchers found that two masks are better than one in slowing the coronavirus spread, but health officials stopped short of recommending it for everyone

STUDY METHOD

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's lab experiment spaced two artificial heads 6 feet from each other and checked to see how many coronavirus-sized particles spewed by one were inhaled by the other

NEW RECOMMENDATIONS

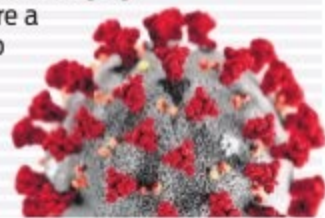

The CDC updated its guidance, saying people can wear a cloth mask on top of a disposable surgical mask "for better fit and extra protection". If done correctly, the combination can tighten the gaps around the mask's edges that can let virus particles in, it said

STUDY LIMITATIONS

The researchers used one brand of surgical mask and one kind of cloth mask, and it's not clear if results would be the same with every product. But it echoes some earlier research that suggests two masks are better than one

IMPORTANCE OF MASKS

Scientists agree the main way the virus is spread is through the air, rather than surfaces, and there's growing evidence that small droplets from breathing, speech and coughing that can travel many metres are a common mode of transmission. Emerging variants also require a smaller viral load to spread Covid-19 compared to the more common strain

UK strain forces snap lockdown in Melbourne

6 million people told to stay indoors after the variant leaks from a quarantine hotel

HEALTH

AUSTRALIA ordered more than six million people into an emergency coronavirus lockdown on Friday, throwing a showpiece tennis tournament into disarray as the pandemic's economic cost was laid bare in badly hit Britain.

The decision to confine the people of Melbourne and surrounding areas to their homes for five days illustrates the tough choices faced by many nations as they struggle to balance reopening and keeping infections under control.

"It's rough. It's going to be a rough few days for everyone," said tennis star Serena Williams, reacting to the lockdown news moments after her latest victory. The move comes as the Covid-19 death toll heads towards 2.4 million, with 107 million people sickened since the virus emerged in China a little over a year ago.

Victoria state Premier Daniel Andrews said the lockdown was needed to halt an outbreak of the "hyper-infectious" UK strain of Covid-19, which leaked from a quarantine hotel at Melbourne airport.

"I am confident that this short, sharp circuit-breaker will be effective. We will be able to smother this, he said. But the timing for Melbourne could not be worse.

The city — Covid-free for three months — is currently hosting the Australian Open Grand Slam, with tens of thousands of socially distanced fans gathering to watch international players. While play will continue under the restrictions, fans will no longer be permitted and players must restrict themselves to biosecure "bubbles". The shutdown will not comfort Japan's Olympic organisers, with the much more complicated Tokyo games due to kick off in July after multiple delays.

And closer to home, Melbourne business owners were left distraught at being forced to close over Valentine's Day weekend, when many had hoped to recoup losses following the brutal 100-day lockdown last year.

On the other side of the world, the UK — which has Europe's highest virus death toll after a heavily criticised initial response to the pandemic — reported a record contraction in its economy. Finance minister Rishi Sunak admitted the impact would be a "serious shock" and warned: "We should expect the economy to get worse before it gets better."

Pain-free test to detect womb cancer developed

RESEARCH

LONDON: British scientists announced on Friday they had developed a test to detect womb cancer using urine samples, explaining the method could replace a painful and invasive procedure currently in use.

At present, clinicians diagnose the cancer by taking a biopsy, a process which requires a narrow telescope called a hysteroscope, to examine inside of the uterus and remove cells.

Nearly a third of women who undergo the procedure have the process repeated because of technical difficulties or intolerable pain, the research showed.

Thousands of women in Britain who do not have womb cancer also undergo the procedure, with huge financial implications for the country's state-run National Health Service (NHS). The study from Manchester University has developed a new detection tool which examines urine or vaginal samples that can be collected by women on their own at home.

The findings, published in the journal Nature Communications, showed analysis of the samples correctly diagnosed 91.7 percent of women with womb cancer.

The proportion of women without womb cancer who tested negative with the new tool was 88.9 percent, the study showed. "Our results show that womb cancer cells can be detected in urine and vaginal samples using a microscope," said Professor Emma Crosbie, who led the study. "Women who test positive with this test could be referred for diagnostic investigations while women who test negative are safely reassured without the need for unpleasant, invasive, anxiety-provoking and expensive procedures."

The new tool was first trialled on 103 women with known cancer and 113 with unexplained postmenopausal bleeding and could be brought into clinical practice once expanded trials have concluded.

Womb cancer is the sixth most common cancer in women, with an estimated 382,000 new diagnoses and 89,900 deaths from the disease in 2018 worldwide, the university said. While most women receive early treatment after the onset of symptoms, which include bleeding after menopause, 20 percent of women who are diagnosed at an advanced stage have only a 15 percent chance of surviving beyond five years.

According to NCBI, Cervical cancer is on a declining trend, but remains the second most common cancer in women after breast cancer in India. Every year in India, 122,844 women are diagnosed with cervical cancer and 67,477 die from this disease.

CHINESE NEW YEAR

Avoidable blackface dance row as Year of Ox begins

NEW YEAR

BEIJING: Chinese state TV included dancers in blackface portraying Africans in a holiday gala for the second time in three years, prompting criticism online, as Asia welcomed the Year of the Ox with muted festivities amid travel curbs to contain renewed coronavirus outbreaks.

The "African Song and Dance" performance on Thursday came at start of the Spring Festival Gala, one of the world's most-watched TV programmes. It included Chinese dancers in African-style costumes and dark face makeup beating drums.

The five-hour annual program, which state TV has said in the past is seen by as many as 800 million viewers, also included tributes to nurses, doctors and others who fought the coronavirus pandemic that began in central China in late 2019.

Festivities for the holiday, normally East Asia's busiest tourism season, are muted after China, Vietnam, Taiwan and other governments tightened travel curbs and urged the public to avoid big gatherings following renewed virus outbreaks.

China's ruling Communist Party tries to promote an image of unity with African nations as fellow developing economies. But China Central Television has faced criticism over using blackface to depict African people in past New Year broadcasts.

WHAT IS THE LUNAR NEW YEAR?

Ox is the second sign in the 12-year cycle of animals that makes up the Chinese zodiac. Each year is associated with one of five elements — metal, water, wood, fire and earth — in addition to its sign. This is the year of the metal ox. The Lunar New Year takes place every year on Feb 12 and marks the day the cycles of the lunisolar calendars reset. It is known as Spring Festival. With around 354 days or 12 cycles of the moon, a lunar year is shorter than a solar year

THE LARGEST HUMAN MIGRATION

The Spring Festival is one of the busiest times of the year anywhere in the world — as people return home en masse to be with their families, much like Christmas or Thanksgiving in the West

FIREWORKS TO BANISH MONSTERS

The season's bash includes fireworks displays held to banish the nian, a mythical half-lion, half-dragon beast. According to folklore, the monster, believed to prey on children, is frightened away by the noise

DON'T WEAR BLACK OR WHITE

Observers of the new year are advised to pay back their debts but avoid tempting fate by cutting their hair or wearing white or black clothing, both of which are associated with mourning

DIFFERENT SIGNS AND TRAITS

The Chinese zodiac works on a 12-year cycle, with every year associated with a different animal of specific traits. Last year was the Year of the Rat, indicates adaptability and intuitiveness. 2019 was Year of the Pig

FACT OF THE MATTER

Stonehenge first erected in Wales?

ANTHROPOLOGY

Remains of an ancient monument in Wales indicate that stones that stood at the site may have been dismantled and used to build the Stonehenge, a new study suggested on Friday.

Researchers believe some stones used at Stonehenge, near Salisbury in southwest England, were used in an earlier monument 280 kilometres away in southwest Wales. The team behind the discovery from University College London (UCL) said there were key elements linking Stonehenge, built in 3000 BC, with the earlier stone circle named Waun Mawn. They suggest bluestones — distinct blue and grey stones that originated in Wales — may have been moved by the ancient builders of Stonehenge as their society migrated.

The findings, due to be published in the journal Antiquity, would explain why the monoliths were moved so far when most similar standing circles from the time were built close to their quarries.

Waun Mawn is one of the oldest stone circles in Britain and the country's third largest. Its surrounding region was an important and densely settled area until 3000 BC when activity seems to have abruptly ended. Scientific dating of charcoal and sediment from the holes where stones stood at the Welsh site, reveal it was erected roughly 400 years before Stonehenge. There are also indications the builders of Stonehenge copied the monument in Wales. Waun Mawn has a diameter of 360 feet — the same as the ditch that encloses Stonehenge — and both are aligned on the midsummer solstice sunrise.

China's space agency released video footage from its spacecraft circling Mars on Friday, two days after it successfully entered the planet's orbit in Beijing's latest ambitious space mission.

In the video, published by state broadcaster CCTV, the surface of the planet is seen coming into view out of a pitch black sky against the outside of the Tianwen-1, which entered the orbit of the Red Planet on Wednesday

White craters are visible on the planet's surface, which fades from white to black through the video as the probe flies over the course of one Martian day, said official news agency Xinhua.

New device transforms human body into battery

TECHNOLOGY

SCIENTISTS at the University of Colorado are working to build a wearable device that can convert body heat into electricity, the Daily Mail reported.

According to researchers, the device will turn your body into a biological battery and generate up to one volt of energy from every square centimetre of skin space.

"In the future, we want to be able to power your wearable electronics without having to include a battery," said Jianliang Xiao, a senior researcher working on the project.

The device will be stretchy enough and can be worn like a ring or a bracelet. It can be used to power your watches or fitness trackers.

RESEARCH

INDIANAPOLIS: There is perhaps nothing more heartbreaking and confusing than a mother who neglects her children. What could possibly subvert the basic instinct for a mother to take care of her child?

Scientists have uncovered a number of biological and environmental factors that can influence maternal behaviour in numerous types of mammals. Many of these studies have pointed to deficits in oxytocin, a hormone released during birth and while breastfeeding that facilitates mother-child bonding. Defects in the levels of serotonin, a key neurotransmitter that regulates mood and depression, can also interfere with the maternal instinct.

Recently a research team from the Salk Institute in La Jolla, California, led by Janelle Ayres reported a new influence on maternal behaviour arising from an unexpected source: the bacteria that dwell in the mother's gut. Their intriguing study, published in Science Advances, was performed using mouse mothers and their offspring.

Emerging research is uncovering a clear role for intestinal microbiota in the proper development of newborns, including humans. With high doses of antibiotics, researchers can create "germ-free" mice that lack microbiota. Alternatively, germ-free mice can be birthed using sterile techniques. Germ-free mice grow more slowly and suffer from a number of immune system deficits and social behaviour issues. In addition to helping digest food and manufacture nutrients, a newborn's gut bacteria regulate production of insulin-like growth factor 1, a crucial growth hormone and that promotes proper development of bone and tissues.

Ayres' new study found that the mother's microbiota can impact her behaviour in a way that can be detrimental to her pups. While it is widely accepted that an infant's microbiota is important for proper development, the affect of the mother's microbiota on nurturing behaviour had not been previously considered.

Ayres' team administered several different kinds of E. coli bacteria into germ-free mice and discovered that mothers housing E. coli O16:H48 had pups with stunted growth. Pups born to these mothers had impaired signaling. Further study suggested that the stunted growth was a result of maternal neglect, causing the pups to be malnourished. Mothers colonised with E. coli O16:H48 spent less time on maternal behaviours such as nest-building, grooming and nursing.

The maternal instinct to feed her pups appeared to have been erased in mothers harbouring E. coli O16:H48. To confirm it, the researchers transferred the newborn pups of mothers with E. coli O16:H48 to the care of normal foster mothers. Pups raised by the foster mothers developed normally. At least in mice, E. coli O16:H48 makes good mothers go bad.

The quintessential Valentine's Day staple is not seeing its usual demand this year, with Dutch roses difficult to obtain as well

BOSKY KHANNA

VALENTINE'S Day may be just around the corner but things don't seem to be too rosy for flowers. "Roses are the stereotypical commodity for V-Day. However, due to the pandemic, the sales have come down," says Rosalie Montalegre, operational manager of House of Plush, a venture that sells flower boxes. She adds, "So far we have sold 190 boxes. We are also calling our clients and reminding them about gifting on V-Day. Since it is falling on a weekend, customers have more exciting options to explore."

According to farmers and sellers, improper weather conditions the last three months is the reason production of Dutch roses has come down while production of the local variety has increased. Farmers and sellers are now hoping customers will prefer the local varieties more.

Karthik, a flower dealer, says, "Normally, during this time of the year, sales are high. This year is not the same. Even if we stock the flowers to sell them at a higher price on 12th and 13th, results will be limited as procurement has been little. People have realised that roses and flowers are not an essential commodity. They prefer to gift other items to be used regularly." Sellers also pointed that till last year, people used to celebrate marriages with flowers but now flowers are looked at as a pricey affair.

Farmers say it costs ₹40-45 lakh to grow roses in an acre of land as poly-housing is a huge investment. "Covid-19 made raising funds tough. The volume of roses has also come down. Normally around 3.5 lakh to four lakh roses are grown, this year it has come down by 20 per cent," says Shivanna, a farmer from Chikkaballapur.

Other farmers from Doddaballapur, Kolar, Ramanagara and surrounding areas have been significantly hit. They say supply to Delhi, Kolkata, Hyderabad, Mumbai and other metros has taken a beating too.

MD of International Flower Auction, Bengaluru, Dr M Vishwanath, told CE that on an average, a stem costs ₹8, as on Feb. 10 against that of ₹10, last year. "In 2020, around four lakh flowers were sold, this year it is less than 3.25 lakh. There are 10-15 per cent less arrivals, when compared to last year. So since Dutch roses have become difficult, it is now to wait and watch if local roses will see a rise in demand this season," he says.

TABOO around menstruation continues to this day. Realising this, a group of students from Vidyashilp Academy is attempting at purchasing a sanitary napkin vending machine for three schools. They hope it will normalise conversations to some extent. A mixed group of 11 students is raising funds through 'Rodeo Drive', a drive-in movie event. This is a part of Girl Up Vidyashilp, a UN-founded organisation aimed at empowering girls.

On Saturday, Chak de! India will be screened. "We're hoping to raise about ₹1.5 lakh," says Gayatri Jayaram, a class 11 student and VP of Girl Up Vidyashilp. Their school grounds will turn into a movie hall. There were factors involved, like obtaining permission, licences and its payment. "Our field can accommodate 80 cars. If there are between 1 and 4 people, the tickets are ₹1,300, and if there are more, it's an added price of ₹200," she adds.

FIT BIT

BAKA DHYANASANA

(PATIENT CRANE POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'Baka' means 'crane', 'dhyana' means 'meditation' and 'asana' means 'pose'. This pose looks like a crane meditating in stillness, concentrating on its prey and waiting for the final kill. There are many variations of Bakasana. Although this posture may seem difficult, it can be mastered quickly. The key is coordination and balance. When you have mastered the basic pose, you can move on to other variations. Focusing on the tip of your nose in the final position directs energy to the Ajna (Third Eye) Chakra, home of our intuition and imagination.

STEPS

- Squat on the floor with your feet apart.
- Balance on your toes and place the hands flat on the floor, directly in front of the feet.
- Make sure that your elbows are slightly bent.
- Now lean forward and adjust the knees so that the inside of the knees touch the outside of the upper arms as close as possible to the armpits.
- Lean further forward. Transfer the bodyweight onto the arms and lift the feet off the floor.
- Balance on the hands with the knees resting firmly on the upper arms.
- Bring the feet together. Focus your gaze at the nose tip.
- Hold it for as long as it's comfortable.

BENEFITS

- Helps you trust yourself.
- Aims to balance the nervous system.
- Regular practice increases your concentration.
- Strengthens arms, shoulders and wrists. It also strengthens your wrist joints.
- Helps in building confidence of the practitioner.
- Develops a sense of physical balance.

LIMITATIONS

- People with high blood pressure, heart disease or cerebral thrombosis should not attempt this pose.
- This asana should be practised correctly. Hence, it is advised to practice under the guidance of a yoga teacher.

Late veteran writer Girish Karnad's old home now houses the city's latest Cambodian restaurant

VIDYA IYENGAR

It may be a new restaurant in town but Khmer Kitchen in JP Nagar is a familiar landmark for South Bengalureans who know it as 'Karnada Ganapathy'. The food joint was formerly a home nestled in greenery, with a library housing several books and a garden courtyard where late writer Girish Karnad spent several years. Now, the restaurant brings alive Siem Reap with its Asian-styled sculptures, a waterfall and koi pond. The erstwhile home of Karnad has now been turned into the Cambodian restaurant Khmer Kitchen, which offers South-East Asian dishes.

Karnad's son, Raghu Karnad, tells CE that he did a walk-through of the space a couple of days before its intended launch in December. "It's a trip. I loved that they haven't cut down any trees, and the structure of the house is unchanged, so its an uncanny transformation from the dusty, bookish home I grew up in to a low-lit trendy Angkor Wat," says Raghu. He recalls how his mother, Dr Saraswathi Ganapathy, practically built that house herself, and their family lived there for about 25 years starting from 1994, before moving to central Bengaluru. "When we moved out, we spent a lot of time weighing different, solemn options for the house. I love how un-pompous the final outcome has been. And unexpected," he adds.

It was sometime in 2018 that Naveen Reddy's (managing partner of the restaurant) wife Veena (partner of the restaurant) wanted to start an Asian-style cafe. It so happened that Reddy was in Cambodia at that point. "I loved the food and ended up going to Cambodia at least eight times to learn the finer-details of Cambodian cooking - making rice noodles or garden cooking. We also collaborated with chefs like Kethana Dunnet, author of Cookin' Cambodian, who taught Gordon Ramsay (celebrity British chef) how to make Fish Amok," he says, adding that he also closely worked with chef Nak before opening the place to the public.

As an architect, Reddy's first instinct was to retain the greenery as is. "The structure itself was a challenge to restore. We've tried to maintain every branch of the trees. It was interesting to use the old form and fuse the old and new together, along with the trees that became a part of the concept itself," says Reddy, who has leased the property from a friend to whom the house was sold to in 2018. "We finalised things sometime in 2019 and have been working on it ever since," says Reddy about the 3,000 sq ft space that has now been doubled. "Only the sloped Mangalore tile roof of Karnad's home was dismantled," he adds.

As an ode to Karnad, the library at Khmer Kitchen has been retained in its original location, where children are encouraged to engage themselves reading. "The private dining rooms also retain the original terracotta filler slab roof that adorn the ceiling, while overlooking the garden court yard below," he adds.

Dhruva Sarja

Pogaru to hit 1,000-plus screens on Feb 19

The film, starring Dhruva Sarja and directed by Nanda Kishore, will see a mega audio launch on Feb 14; it will see a simultaneous release in Kannada, Tamil and Telugu Pogaru, starring Dhruva Sarja, will be the first big-star release of 2021. The film is seeing a simultaneous release in Kannada, Telugu, and Tamil. It is said to be hitting over 1,000 screens across three states and other regions on Feb. 19. "It will be released in around 350 theatres in Karnataka alone," confirms produced by BK Gangadhar about the film which is being distributed by KVN Productions across the state.

Before the release, the team is holding a grand audio launch in Davangere on Feb. 14. According to the director, this is the first large-scale event being held amidst the pandemic. The guest for the event will be fans of Dhruva Sarja, whom he calls them VIPs. At this event, the Pogaru team plans to release three songs from the film, which will include the popular Karaabu track. The film's music by Chandan Shetty has background scored by V Harikrishna.

A still from the film

Pogaru, touted by an action family drama, has Rashmika Mandanna paired with Dhruva Sarja and features an ensemble cast, including Raghavendra Rajkumar, Dhananjay, Pavithra Lokesh, Mayuri, Ravi Shankar and Chikkanna. The film also features international body-builders Kai Greene, Morgan Aste, Johan Lucas, and Jo Linder in the climax sequence. The cinematography is handled by well-known DoP Vijay Milton.

Director revives Dr Rajkumar's movie title for his next

PraSiddh's movie, called Bahaddur Gandu, stars Kiran Raj, Yasho Shivakumar and Nisarga Lakshman

CE FEATURES

Ratnamanjari director PraSiddh has begun his second outing for which he has brought on board noted Kannada serial actor, Kiran Raj. It also features Yasho Shivakumar playing the female lead, while Nisarga Lakshman is also part of the cast. The film's name is what is catching attention, with film buffs recalling that Bahaddur Gandu was the classic title of legendary actor Rajkumar's blockbuster. "I am a big fan of Dr Rajkumar. His persona is something I was always in awe of, and the joy of watching his films is something I treasure from my growing years. I take complete responsibility to give the right judgement to the title and the story," says the one-film-old director, who has come up with a village-based subject for this film.

The team is now in the pre-production stage and plans to begin shooting from March 11. "Malavalli Saikrishna, who has been associated with films like Jogi and The Villain as dialogue writer, has come on board for my film.

It's a musical with eight songs and three bit songs which will be scored by Gumineni Vijay. It will bring a folk touch to the album. Kitty Kaushik will be handling the camera for Bahaddur Gandu," he says.

'I AM JUST LUCKY'

A SHARADHAA

It was in May 2014 that Neetha Ashok first faced the arc lights. Four years later, she had three mega serials in Kannada and one in Hindi to her credit. Now, Neetha has got her first big break in Sudeep-starrer Vikrant Rona directed by Anup Bhandari. "I am just lucky, it's not luck by chance," says Neetha, who hadn't considered the silver screen till 2019 when she was offered a Tulu project, soon after which Vikrant Rona came by. "The Tulu movie featured my senior from school, with his father directing and producing the film. It was at the same time that I got a call from team Vikrant Rona," she tells us.

She can't contain her excitement about being spotted by none other than Sudeep, who is known to encourage young talent. "I had met Sudeep sir at a party organised by Colors Kannada. When the team was looking to bring in a suitable cast for the film, Sudeep remembered me and suggested my name. Initially, when I got a message I thought it was a prank. However, when I got a call, there were no bounds to my excitement," says Neetha.

Did she muster the courage to find out from the star himself as to the reason for his suggestion? "Yes! Good work, whether on the small screen or anywhere else, never goes unnoticed. He had watched the promos of my serials, which would appear in the breaks of Bigg Boss Kannada. He mentioned that my smile and screen presence struck him," she says.

Neetha's role, as Panna, is completely different from the others she has done on small screen. "I usually play the girl-next-door character in serials. But Panna is a very western, broadminded girl from Mumbai. She likes to explore places and enjoys adventure. Panna is somebody very similar to me," she says, adding that despite the star presence, her role did have weightage. "They made sure my character wasn't dull," she adds.

For a TV serial actor, was the transition to the big screen difficult? "No. The only difference is while shooting for serials, we would do 10 to 15 scenes a day, but for a film, even one scene requires a lot of attention. Every minute detail is looked into. Patience is a key factor while shooting a movie," she says.

About her working experience, Neetha says that being a newcomer and the only woman in a 200-member crew, she got all the care and attention. "Brothers Anup and Nirup Bhandari were with me throughout. When we weren't shooting, we used to play games like anthakshari. Not a single moment was I left alone. They treated me like family," says Neetha, adding that Sudeep was very protective. "In the very first shot, Sudeep sir made sure I was comfortable. This helped in my performance. Throughout the journey, the team of Vikrant Rona stayed together, celebrated festivals, watched movies, and Sudeep made sure we were all with him. This is the best memory I take away from this project," she tells us.

Vikrant Rona is already creating a buzz. So has this raised the bar for her? "As they say, we don't know how long we will be in the limelight. So I am taking things as they come. I am glad to have mentors in Anup and Sudeep sir. I will wait for Vikrant Rona to release before I make my next move," she sums up.

...says Neetha Ashok as she charts her journey from her early days in television to getting a big break on silver screen in Sudeep-starrer Vikrant Rona

Salman Khan thanks fans after getting relief in Blackbuck case

Salman Khan has thanked his fans for their support after the Jodhpur District and Sessions Court dismissed two pleas against him. The pleas were filed by the Rajasthan government against the actor in a case related to submitting false affidavit in 2003. Posting a picture on Instagram, Salman wrote: "To all my fans, thank u for your love support n concern. Khayal rakho apna n parivaar ka (take care of yourself and your family). God bless n loveee u too..." Earlier on Tuesday, Salman had apologised before the court for 'mistakenly' submitting a false affidavit in 2003 during his hearing in the blackbuck poaching case. His lawyer Saraswat told the court that the actor should be forgiven for mistakenly submitting the false affidavit back then. In 1998, Salman was arrested for hunting two blackbucks in Kankani village near Jodhpur during the shooting of the film Hum Saath Saath Hain. At that time, a case under Arms Act was registered against the actor and the court had asked him to submit his arms licence. Salman submitted an affidavit in the court in 2003, saying that he had lost the licence. He also lodged an FIR at the Bandra police station in Mumbai in this connection. However, the court later came to know that his Arms licence was not lost, but had been submitted for renewal.. However, on Thursday, the Jodhpur District and Sessions Court judge Raghavendra Kachwal dismissed the pleas filed against Salman.

Emraan Hashmi

Emraan Hashmi to play the villain in Tiger 3?

CE FEATURES

Emraan Hashmi will reportedly play the villain in Salman Khan-Katrina Kaif starrer Tiger 3. Though yet to be officially announced, the third installment in the Tiger franchise is expected to go on floors this year. As per reports, Salman and Katrina will begin shooting for the film in March. They will be joined by Emraan for the shoot. One of the film's schedules will take place in the Middle East, followed by a schedule in Mumbai. There's also buzz that Tiger 3 will pick up from where Shah Rukh Khan's upcoming film Pathan ends. Salman will reportedly have a cameo in that film.
